THE POLICE FOUND SUNDAY VERY QUIET

Only Three Arrests Made Since Saturday Evening—The Usual Cause.

There were only three arrests made by the police during Saturday night and Sunday. The trio would have had a hearing this morning, but owing to the absence of Mayor Weaver, who was unexpectedly called to Canton the victims will be compelled to await his return.

Levi Burrows had a "peach" of a jag on when arrested by Officer Morris. After drinking about all an ordinary man can stand up with decided to top the lark with a couple of cans of peaches. He went into the Arcade restaurant and the first thing he saw was peach cans galore. While he thought eyes were turned away from him he quietly confiscated two cans and was about to depart when hailed by the proprietor, who had him arrested.

William Boyd, of Georgetown, was drunk and could not escape the eagle eyes of Officer Bryan. Skinner Cunningham had several aboard when Officer McDermott grabbed him.

SENSATIONAL SUIT COMES FROM SALEM

A Prominent Business Man Sued by His Wife For Divorce.

SAD TALE OF ABUSE TOLD

Lisbon, September 14.—(Special)—Anna M. Hilles through her attorneys, Carey & Mullins and L. P. Metzger, of Salem, has filed suit for divorce from L. E. Hilles, asking also custody of their daughter, Lucile, aged 12, and reasonable alimony. The higher courts not being in session at present, a decree has been secured in probate court temporarily restraining the defendant from disposing of extensive holdings of real estate and other interests.

The petition says they were married in Salem, June 5, 1890, and that they have one daughter. As her first cause for action the plaintiff charges her husband with extreme cruelty, alleging that on divers occasions, as long ago as 1895, he has subjected her to physical abuse and has sworn at her and called her indecent names. In 1895, when they were living in Manila, P. I., she says he struck her in the face and choked her. In 1896 and 1897, while living at Saigon, and in Singapore, India, he is alleged to have struck her at different times, badly injuring and discoloring her face. During their more recent residence in Baltimore, Md., the husband's treatment is alleged to have been even

THEY WILL HOLD MEETING

Do Not Want the Combine to Discontinue Doing Business Here, As Factories Are Not in Shape For a Sudden Change to Coal as Fuel.

A new phase has developed in the gas situation. A number of the city's most prominent business men who have been fighting the proposition of the gas company since the first notification was served on the people, are now convinced that they have been treading on very uncertain ground and they have decided to change in their attitude toward the gas corporation.

Among the men referred to are several manufacturers, all of whom are today advocating a discontinuance of the action started against the company. They feel that the threat of the gas company is not a bluff and after weighing the matter fully have determined that by all means nothing should be done that would induce the company to discontinue business in this city. They figure that it would mean almost a panic among the manufacturers and are strongly against a continuance of the fight.

A meeting of the pottery manufacturers' association will be held tomorrow afternoon at which time the matter will be taken up from every standpoint. It is likely that the association will recommend to council a complete change in its mode of action. Relative to the situation a prominent manufacturer made the following statement this morning:

"I tell you the gas company is not bluffing. I know that the men who were here representing the company last week meant it when they said the company would shut off all gas flowing to this city if the new rate is not acceded to. If the gas is shut off the potteries will be closed down for at least four months and then they will not be in working order that they are today. The kilns of the majority of the potteries are so constructed that if coal were to be used again new bottoms would have to be built in all of them.

"To the manufacturers it would be a terrible blow to have the gas cut off. The gas company makes the statement that it will not fight the city if in injunction proceedings. It has determined to let the city do as it likes. If the injunction is applied for and granted no fight will be made. The officials say they will convert the gas that is being used in East Liverpool to Pittsburg and they meant every

INJUNCTION SOUGHT BY SOLICITOR

Mr. Davidson Goes to Canton to Take Steps to Prevent the Appointment of Wyman as Chief.

As a last resort City Solicitor George E. Davidson decided late Saturday evening to apply to Judge Ambler at Canton for an injunction restraining the mayor from appointing John Wyman, permanent chief of police. For that purpose the solicitor left for Canton this morning. He was accompanied by Mayor Weaver, Attorney J. H. Brookes, D. M. Ogilvie and N. A. Frederick.

When the board of public safety ignored the notice served upon it by the solicitor, demanding that Mr. Wyman should not be allowed to take the examination for eligibility to appointment to the chief of policeship, the solicitor was convinced that his power over the board amounted to naught. He realized that if he could influence the members of that body to act as his construction of the code dictates, he would be compelled to carry the case to a court and after reviewing every feature of the momentous question, decided to carry the case before Judge Ambler.

In carrying out this determination, it was compulsory that the solicitor notify the mayor of his intended action and late last evening the notice was served. Though it was not learned positively this morning the exact nature of the injunction proceedings, Mr. Dawson, of the safety board, states that it can be but for two things—to restrain the mayor from appointing Mr. Wyman or to restrain the board from certifying Mr. Wyman's name for appointment. Mr. Dawson rather thought it was to restrain the mayor, no notice having been served on the board.

Upon learning that the case was to come up at Canton today, Mayor Weaver retained Attorney Brookes to represent his side of the question and requested Mr. Ogilvie to accompany them. Mr. Frederick, it is said, went along simply to see the fun.

LISBON PASTOR GOING TO ENGLAND

Rev. George Fowler Has Accepted a Call to a British Island City Church.

Lisbon, September 14.—(Special)—At the morning service in the Christian church yesterday, Rev. George Fowler, who has been pastor for about five years, announced that he had accepted a call to a church in Southport, England. About 18 months ago he refused to accept a call to Liverpool, England, but for some time he has been in correspondence with the Southport church and last week received a cablegram announcing that a unanimous call had been extended to him.

Southport is a noted English health resort on the Irish sea, about 18 miles north of Liverpool. Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Fowler expect to sail from New York about October 15. It will be their first visit to England.

During his pastorate here, the longest pastorate the church has had in 30 years, the membership has increased about 150. Mr. Fowler came here from Canada, where he was born.

EXPECTS TO GET THE CHILD BACK

J. B. Ecker Will Enter Legal Proceedings to Recover His Niece.

SUIT TO BEGIN AT ONCE

J. B. Ecker has returned from a week's investigating tour relative to the kidnapping of his little 12-year-old niece, Myrtle Hewitt, at Canton, and her subsequent confinement in a convent at Cleveland. While away Mr Ecker had a rather romantic journey, but it was fruitful and the restoration of the child seems assured.

As was narrated in the News Review, the child was allowed to go to Canton on a visit. She was to have been home by the opening day of school last week, but she failed to arrive, owing to the action of relatives in Canton, who, it is alleged, kidnapped her and spirited her away to the Cleveland hospital.

Upon his arrival at Canton Mr. Ecker learned that two parties, relatives of his by marriage, had taken the child. They are alleged to be Mrs. Johannes Miller and Mrs. Ollie Herman. Charges have been preferred against the two women and they are to be taken before the court of Stark county to answer to the serious charge of kidnapping. The prosecuting attorney of that county has taken a deep interest in the case and will prosecute the women to the full extent of the law.

Mr. Ecker states that when he made application to the convent for the little girl that the mother superior turned him away, stating that he could not have the child at the present time under any consideration, but that after following a long line of red tape he could secure her by furnishing $1,000 as a surety bond. He referred this to the prosecutor at Canton, and the latter advised him to leave the case in his hands and he would get the child.

The prosecutor advised Mr. Ecker to see the father of the girl and he went to Johnstown, Pa., the home of the father on Friday. The father was very much worked up over the affair and stated he would do everything possible to get the child back. He was to have arrived in the city this morning, but failed to appear. Mr. Ecker expects him this afternoon and upon his arrival they will depart for Canton and prepare for the legal proceedings.

Washington September 14.—(Special.)—Admiral Cotton has cabled the state department that he has exchanged satisfactory visits with the governor general of Beirut.

Last night 28 rioters were arrested, after which the city became quiet. Confidence has been restored and it is thought that an effectual stop has been made to rioting.

BOLD ATTEMPTS MADE TO ROB TWO DWELLINGS UPON SUNDAY EVENING

Two Men Went Through Every Room in Grocer Schmidt's House and One Attacked the Quest Residence.

Two bold attempts at burglary were made in the city last night between the hours of 10 and 11. Two men forced an entrance into the home of Grocer George P. Schmidt, Seventh street, and one man succeeded in getting into the house of Edward Quest, Center alley.

The men at the Schmidt home daringly entered the yard while people in the vicinity were watching them. The neighbors, however, did not think them to be burglars, and did not raise an alarm. Going to the rear of the home they raised boards from an opening leading to the cellar and had easy access to the upper portion of the house. The kitchen door had been left open by Mr. Schmidt and they entered through this door, and subsequently went through every room in the house.

Mr. Schmidt and wife sleep in an upstairs room and the two men entered their room a short time after they had retired. They discovered a pair of trousers hanging on a chair near the head of Mr. Schmidt's bed and took them down stairs. There they made an examination of the pockets. Discovering that they were empty, the trousers were thrown on the floor and the burglars commenced another search for money. It is thought while they were in the parlor of the house the arrival of Mr. Schmidt's boy, who had been out spending the evening, frightened them. The boy says he heard them making their escape. They are described as being tall men, who wore black suits and slouch hats.

The Quest home was entered from the front door. Mrs. Quest was up stairs and hearing a noise made, gave the alarm. Neighbors rushed to the house, but before their arrival the burglar had left. He was seen to go through several yards in getting away.

There is quite a mystery in connection with the attempts at burglary at this home. It will be remembered that a man tried to get in the same house one night last week and that Mrs. Quest with her baby in her arms jumped from a second story window upon hearing him at the front door. Who the man is, is not known. And why he should persist in trying to rob this house is also a mystery. The police will keep a strict watch around it in the future.

The situation is most threatening and may cause a general mobilization of the Bulgarian forces to meet the advance.

Though it was not learned positively this morning the exact nature of the injunction proceedings, Mr. Dawson, of the safety board, states that it can be but for two things—to restrain the mayor from appointing Mr. Wyman or to restrain the board from certifying Mr. Wyman's name for appointment. Mr. Dawson rather thought it was to restrain the mayor, no notice having been served on the board.

Upon learning that the case was to come up at Canton today, Mayor Weaver retained Attorney Brookes to represent his side of the question and requested Mr. Ogilvie to accompany them. Mr. Frederick, it is said, went along simply to see the fun.

LISBON PASTOR GOING TO ENGLAND

Rev. George Fowler Has Accepted a Call to a British Island City Church.

Lisbon, September 14.—(Special)—At the morning service in the Christian church yesterday, Rev. George Fowler, who has been pastor for about five years, announced that he had accepted a call to a church in Southport, England. About 18 months ago he refused to accept a call to Liverpool, England, but for some time he has been in correspondence with the Southport church and last week received a cablegram announcing that a unanimous call had been extended to him.

Southport is a noted English health resort on the Irish sea, about 18 miles north of Liverpool. Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Fowler expect to sail from New York about October 15. It will be their first visit to England.

During his pastorate here, the longest pastorate the church has had in 30 years, the membership has increased about 150. Mr. Fowler came here from Canada, where he was born.

EXPECTS TO GET THE CHILD BACK

J. B. Ecker Will Enter Legal Proceedings to Recover His Niece.

SUIT TO BEGIN AT ONCE

J. B. Ecker has returned from a week's investigating tour relative to the kidnapping of his little 12-year-old niece, Myrtle Hewitt, at Canton, and her subsequent confinement in a convent at Cleveland. While away Mr Ecker had a rather romantic journey, but it was fruitful and the restoration of the child seems assured.

As was narrated in the News Review, the child was allowed to go to Canton on a visit. She was to have been home by the opening day of school last week, but she failed to arrive, owing to the action of relatives in Canton, who, it is alleged, kidnapped her and spirited her away to the Cleveland hospital.

Upon his arrival at Canton Mr. Ecker learned that two parties, relatives of his by marriage, had taken the child. They are alleged to be Mrs. Johannes Miller and Mrs. Ollie Herman. Charges have been preferred against the two women and they are to be taken before the court of Stark county to answer to the serious charge of kidnapping. The prosecuting attorney of that county has taken a deep interest in the case and will prosecute the women to the full extent of the law.

Mr. Ecker states that when he made application to the convent for the little girl that the mother superior turned him away, stating that he could not have the child at the present time under any consideration, but that after following a long line of red tape he could secure her by furnishing $1,000 as a surety bond. He referred this to the prosecutor at Canton, and the latter advised him to leave the case in his hands and he would get the child.

The prosecutor advised Mr. Ecker to see the father of the girl and he went to Johnstown, Pa., the home of the father on Friday. The father was very much worked up over the affair and stated he would do everything possible to get the child back. He was to have arrived in the city this morning, but failed to appear. Mr. Ecker expects him this afternoon and upon his arrival they will depart for Canton and prepare for the legal proceedings.

BOLD ATTEMPTS MADE TO ROB TWO DWELLINGS UPON SUNDAY EVENING

Two Men Went Through Every Room in Grocer Schmidt's House and One Attacked the Quest Residence.

Two bold attempts at burglary were made in the city last night between the hours of 10 and 11. Two men forced an entrance into the home of Grocer George P. Schmidt, Seventh street, and one man succeeded in getting into the house of Edward Quest, Center alley.

The men at the Schmidt home daringly entered the yard while people in the vicinity were watching them. The neighbors, however, did not think them to be burglars, and did not raise an alarm. Going to the rear of the home they raised boards from an opening leading to the cellar and had easy access to the upper portion of the house. The kitchen door had been left open by Mr. Schmidt and they entered through this door, and subsequently went through every room in the house.

Mr. Schmidt and wife sleep in an upstairs room and the two men entered their room a short time after they had retired. They discovered a pair of trousers hanging on a chair near the head of Mr. Schmidt's bed and took them down stairs. There they made an examination of the pockets. Discovering that they were empty, the trousers were thrown on the floor and the burglars commenced another search for money. It is thought while they were in the parlor of the house the arrival of Mr. Schmidt's boy, who had been out spending the evening, frightened them. The boy says he heard them making their escape. They are described as being tall men, who wore black suits and slouch hats.

The Quest home was entered from the front door. Mrs. Quest was up stairs and hearing a noise made, gave the alarm. Neighbors rushed to the house, but before their arrival the burglar had left. He was seen to go through several yards in getting away.

There is quite a mystery in connection with the attempts at burglary at this home. It will be remembered that a man tried to get in the same house one night last week and that Mrs. Quest with her baby in her arms jumped from a second story window upon hearing him at the front door. Who the man is, is not known. And why he should persist in trying to rob this house is also a mystery. The police will keep a strict watch around it in the future.

News and Notes About The Potteries

ANOTHER CONFERENCE.

Another conference is to be held by committees representing the National Brotherhood of Operative Potters and the United States Potters' association in an effort to adjust the wage scale. This fact was announced at the conclusion of the meeting of the executive board of the Brotherhood, held Saturday afternoon and evening. The date for the conference has not been fixed, but it is likely that it will be held before the end of the week.

President Duffy, of the Brotherhood, notified the manufacturers this morning that the executive board had decided to accede to the request for another conference. The time and place of the conference will probably be determined by the manufacturers. Their committee is yet to be named.

The failure of the committee from the Western Manufacturers' association to reach an agreement with the committee from the Brotherhood did not mean an end of the effort to adjust the differences. Now a committee will be named from the United States association to carry on the negotiations.

Four additional members, all from the east, will be added to the Brotherhood committee for the coming conference and the manufacturers' committee will also be increased a like number. First Vice President Hutchins will be one of the additional conferees and he will remain in this city until the conference is held. The others have not been announced by President Duffy.

At the meeting of the executive board the resignation of National Treasurer Aaron Coleman was presented. Mr. Coleman was elected treasurer at the national convention held at Wheeling last May and had made a painstaking and efficient official. His resignation came as a genuine surprise. Mr. Coleman had been selected by the board of directors of the co-operative store to manage the establishment and this reason was given for his resignation. The board considerd it sufficient and the resignation was accepted. The vacancy was filled by the selection of John A. Wood, national treasurer last year. Mr. Wood, during his previous term of office, performed his duties to the satisfaction of all and is in every way qualified to fill out Mr. Coleman's term.

Joseph G. Lee, of the K., T. & K., is president of the United States Potters' association and H. A. Keffer, of the Sevres China company, is secretary. Mr. Lee stated this afternoon that there was nothing concerning the conference to give to the public at this time. Their selection of a committee has not yet been made.

ZANESVILLE ART WARE.

L. A. Miller, the Zanesville art potter, is putting out a new French ware that is about the finest thing ever attempted in the art ware line in this country. The decoration has a silvery appearance into which is blended many color effects. Different designs are also blended with the silver, making something entirely new in the art ware line. A buyer from Tiffany & Co., of New York, was in Zanesville last week and bought heavily of these goods, which are already making quite a hit.

The Arc En Ciel Pottery company, of Zanesville, are also putting out a new ware that has a silvery effect, but at the same time is very different in decoration from the Weller ware. The ware has a silvery appearance through which appear distinct designs such as gold fish, etc., while the Weller ware contains no distinct designs, but the decorations are more on the scroll and oriental design order.

THE PHARISEE IN RELIGION

Subject of an Able Sermon by Rev. J. G. Reinartz, of the Lutheran Church.

MISTAKES OF CHRISTIANS

How They Fall Short In Duty Forcibly Pointed Out—The True Witnesses of God—The Only Way to Progress in Holiness.

Rev. J. G. Reinartz, at the Lutheran church, last evening, preached from Luke 17:10, "Two men went up into the temple to pray." He said in part:

"Two serious mistakes are made with regard to God's temple, and both mark certain extremes from which it is well if man is delivered.

"In their day perhaps no people were more devoted to the service in God's house than the Scribes and Pharisees. Their history shows to what degredation man can sink, and opens our eyes to the corruption that may exist in places of holiness. Many of these priests were reared amid surroundings of the temple, but their religion was one lost in the letter of the word and was severed from practical life about as far as it is possible to imagine. The service in the temple had become a sort of business for the display of the various stages of selfrighteousness. The other extreme arises from a total disregard of the temple which frequently results from a keen intelligent mind that beholds the inconsistencies of men and takes offense thereat, as well as from ignorance and stupidity that loves its own way and delights in sin.

"No man ever saw the follies and inconsistencies of men so much as Jesus. No one ever exposed the hypocracy of the Pharisee's religion as He did. Humanely speaking, He had many and weighty reasons for thinking lightly of God's temple in Jerusalem, but He did not. He loved it for what it was before God, and in spite of what sinful men had made it.

"How ought man to worship? Where there is no prayer, there is no worship. Religion is the communion of the soul with God and this is ordinarily maintained by prayer. In days of old the temple of Jehovah was the place for prayer and both these men, whatever their excellencies or defects, were intent on this. They entered the temple and prayed. It is a sad thing when this fact was overlooked, but the danger for doing so is very great. The temple itself may have adornments or attractions of a character to divert the soul rather than help it to piety. The music may lift into prominence the singers, or the sermon the one who preaches, rather than Him of whom he ought to speak—Christ. The uppermost desire must be to hold communion with God. Where this is wanting all efforts at being religious are a farce.

"No worship, no sincereity. But while prayer has its formal part, that has to do with one's attitude, or the outward expression, it also has an inner substance. A prayer may be said on the corner of the street or it may be so conceived as to bring forth no small amount of selfrighteousness, or it may make very inoidious comparisons. It may be lost in words for want of something to say. Men have preached sermons in prayers, and have used them for lashing evil doers, or flattering the vanity of others and commending their actions. It is possible through a worldly spirit to lose all sacredness of prayer. The proper source of communion with God lies in the holiness of the Almighty.

"No sincerity, no blessing. We are not informed about the particular sin which this publican had done who in a general way acknowledges himself a sinner, nor is it necessary to demand a special emphasis. Under the culturing care of heaven man's onward progression in holiness is marked from baptism onward to death. The insect is not immediately ready to become a chrysalis and when a man is completely fullfledged in holiness, we could not seriously think of any step beyond this than the grave. There is an order and system in the Bible and our experience, which finds an analogy in it. We are Christians but never quite as perfect as the best ones of the Bible. We are good, but never quite as good as our loftiest idea of goodness. We are holy but not as holy as Christ. The Bible nourishes

ANOTHER CONFERENCE.

Another conference is to be held by committees representing the National Brotherhood of Operative Potters and the United States Potters' association in an effort to adjust the wage scale. This fact was announced at the conclusion of the meeting of the executive board of the Brotherhood, held Saturday afternoon and evening. The date for the conference has not been fixed, but it is likely that it will be held before the end of the week.

President Duffy, of the Brotherhood, notified the manufacturers this morning that the executive board had decided to accede to the request for another conference. The time and place of the conference will probably be determined by the manufacturers. Their committee is yet to be named.

The failure of the committee from the Western Manufacturers' association to reach an agreement with the committee from the Brotherhood did not mean an end of the effort to adjust the differences. Now a committee will be named from the United States association to carry on the negotiations.

Four additional members, all from the east, will be added to the Brotherhood committee for the coming conference and the manufacturers' committee will also be increased a like number. First Vice President Hutchins will be one of the additional conferees and he will remain in this city until the conference is held. The others have not been announced by President Duffy.

At the meeting of the executive board the resignation of National Treasurer Aaron Coleman was presented. Mr. Coleman was elected treasurer at the national convention held at Wheeling last May and had made a painstaking and efficient official. His resignation came as a genuine surprise. Mr. Coleman had been selected by the board of directors of the co-operative store to manage the establishment and this reason was given for his resignation. Mr. Wood, during his previous term of office, performed his duties to the satisfaction of all and is in every way qualified to fill out Mr. Coleman's term.

Joseph G. Lee, of the K., T. & K., is president of the United States Potters' association and H. A. Keffer, of the Sevres China company, is secretary. Mr. Lee stated this afternoon that there was nothing concerning the conference to give to the public at this time. Their selection of a committee has not yet been made.

FIRE CLAY FOUND.

The Monroe Brick company, of Woodsfield, O., which recently commenced operations at that place, have discovered on their property a vein of fire clay which experts pronounce very fine. The vein is fully seven feet thick and the company will manufacture it at an early day. The discovery is considered very valuable, as similar clay has not been found in Ohio before.

The pottery workers at Salineville have organized a local order of the N. B. of O. P., this organization starting out with about 50 members. The local was placed in working order by President T. J. Duffy. Heretofore the Brotherhood had no organization at Salineville.

THE PHARISEE IN RELIGION

Subject of an Able Sermon by Rev. J. G. Reinartz, of the Lutheran Church.

How They Fall Short In Duty Forcibly Pointed Out—The True Witnesses of God—The Only Way to Progress in Holiness.

Rev. J. G. Reinartz, at the Lutheran church, last evening, preached from Luke 17:10, "Two men went up into the temple to pray." He said in part:

"Two serious mistakes are made with regard to God's temple, and both mark certain extremes from which it is well if man is delivered.

"In their day perhaps no people were more devoted to the service in God's house than the Scribes and Pharisees. Their history shows to what degredation man can sink, and opens our eyes to the corruption that may exist in places of holiness. Many of these priests were reared amid surroundings of the temple, but their religion was one lost in the letter of the word and was severed from practical life about as far as it is possible to imagine. The service in the temple had become a sort of business for the display of the various stages of selfrighteousness. The other extreme arises from a total disregard of the temple which frequently results from a keen intelligent mind that beholds the inconsistencies of men and takes offense thereat, as well as from ignorance and stupidity that loves its own way and delights in sin.

"No man ever saw the follies and inconsistencies of men so much as Jesus. No one ever exposed the hypocracy of the Pharisee's religion as He did. Humanely speaking, He had many and weighty reasons for thinking lightly of God's temple in Jerusalem, but He did not. He loved it for what it was before God, and in spite of what sinful men had made it.

"How ought man to worship? Where there is no prayer, there is no worship. Religion is the communion of the soul with God and this is ordinarily maintained by prayer. In days of old the temple of Jehovah was the place for prayer and both these men, whatever their excellencies or defects, were intent on this. They entered the temple and prayed. It is a sad thing when this fact was overlooked, but the danger for doing so is very great. The temple itself may have adornments or attractions of a character to divert the soul rather than help it to piety. The music may lift into prominence the singers, or the sermon the one who preaches, rather than Him of whom he ought to speak—Christ. The uppermost desire must be to hold communion with God. Where this is wanting all efforts at being religious are a farce.

"No worship, no sincereity. But while prayer has its formal part, that has to do with one's attitude, or the outward expression, it also has an inner substance. A prayer may be said on the corner of the street or it may be so conceived as to bring forth no small amount of selfrighteousness, or it may make very inoidious comparisons. It may be lost in words for want of something to say. Men have preached sermons in prayers, and have used them for lashing evil doers, or flattering the vanity of others and commending their actions. It is possible through a worldly spirit to lose all sacredness of prayer. The proper source of communion with God lies in the holiness of the Almighty.

"No sincerity, no blessing. We are not informed about the particular sin which this publican had done who in a general way acknowledges himself a sinner, nor is it necessary to demand a special emphasis. Under the culturing care of heaven man's onward progression in holiness is marked from baptism onward to death. The insect is not immediately ready to become a chrysalis and when a man is completely fullfledged in holiness, we could not seriously think of any step beyond this than the grave. There is an order and system in the Bible and our experience, which finds an analogy in it. We are Christians but never quite as perfect as the best ones of the Bible. We are good, but never quite as good as our loftiest idea of goodness. We are holy but not as holy as Christ. The Bible nourishes

MRS. SHAFFER NEVER DID LIKE CATS

That Is the Main Cause For Her Disagreement With the Smith Family.

A fight of long duration between two families in Jethro has at last reached the mayor's court. The parties implicated are Mike Smith, wife and son and Mrs. Shaffer. The latter charges the trio with throwing stones at her and her children, and many other things. Mrs. Shaffer stated this morning at the city hall that some very funny evidence would be produced at the hearing which will likely be tomorrow evening. She said that the trouble originated over eight small black cats.

Mrs. Shaffer never did like cats and it seems to be a hobby of the Smith family to raise them. They have eight and when the little things roamed over into the yard of Mrs. Shaffer a kick was immediately registered.

AN OHIO MAN THE DEFENDANT

Two Suits Against R. C. Penfield Pending in New Jersey U. S. Court.

THE CHARGES ARE GRAVE

Defendant Accused of Juggling the Paper of Two Clay Companies. Vast Amount Involved—Live Trade Topics From Trenton.

From a Staff Correspondent.

Trenton, N. J., September 14.—(Special)—One of the principal cases to be tried at the September term of the United States court will be that of Raymond C. Penfield, an Ohio citizen, against whom two suits are pending, charging him with juggling the paper of the Great Eastern Clay Manufacturing company and the National Clay Manufacturing company, two corporations operating under charters granted by New Jersey.

The financial affairs of the two companies are in such shape that a petition was filed in the United States District court this week, asking for the appointment of a receiver to manage their affairs. In compliance with the petition, Judge Kirkpatrick has appointed the Continental Trust company of New York, ancilliary receiver.

The complainant in each suit is the Standard Vetrified Conduit company of New York city. In the suit involving the National Clay Manufacturing company it is claimed that there is owing the company a note for $4,000 of the date of August 31, 1903, on which demand has been made for payment.

Penfield is charged in the bill of complaint of being the owner of all the capital stock of the American Clay Working Machine company of Ohio, and further, that he controls more than half of the million dollar capitalization of the National Clay Manufacturing company. It is claimed in the bill that Penfield has gained control of the latter company's affairs and has caused to be issued more than $250,000 of stock which he has used for his own benefit in other business ventures.

The complainants assert that in spite of the recent stock issued being protected by the valuable clay property of the National company in Perth Amboy, and which acts as security to a certain specified dividend, there is a likelihood of the assets of the company being sold to satisfy the claims of the stockholders. The bill charges that this stock is in the hands of innocent third parties and is about ready to be presented for payment for the dividends guaranteed by the National company's Perth Amboy holdings.

Similar charges are made against Penfield in the suit involving the Great Eastern Clay company, with the exception that a note which also matured August 31 last, is for $2,500 and that he is charged with "juggling" $400,000 worth of notes in the name of the concern and for his own use. The Great Eastern Clay company, which is likewise capitalized at $1,000,000, is declared to be in the control of Penfield. It owns with the National company rich properties at Perth Amboy.

Considerable interest is attached to the outcome of the suit, especially among the manufacturing potters and brickmakers of this city, as many of them purchase their clay in the raw state from the two clay companies. In fact, the two companies furnish a large part of the clay used in the manufacture of crockery and terra-cotta and pending the outcome of the suits their plants have been shut down.

The Young Men's Christian Association has commenced the educational campaign among the potters with apparently good results. Through arrangements with Vice President Hutchins, F. P. Lamphere, educational director of the association, has made arrangements to have the work of the association brought before the locals comprising the local representation of the National Brotherhood of Operative Potters. Thursday night Mr. Lamphere addressed the kilnmen and the following other dates have been arragned: September 15, sanitary workers; September 16, turners, throwers and handlers; September 18, packers; September 21, dippers; September 22, jiggermen, and September 23, saggermakers.

Thursday during the noon hour Mr. Lamphere conducted an educational meeting for the men of the Willetts pottery. About 100 employes were present. They were addressed by Mr. Lamphere and D. B. Marks, membership secretary, and Messrs. Stephen, Hutchinson, and Hill, of the shop committee. Yesterday a similar meeting was held at the plant of the Trenton Lamp company. Meetings were held early in the week at the Trenton Fire Clay works, the Maddock pottery, the Empire pottery and the Ideal pottery.

NERVAN TABLETS

The great nerve tonic and blood remedy, produce plumpness, rounds out hollowness, brings the bloom of youth to the cheeks, and all who take them enjoy good health and strength. Nervan Tablets act on the nerves and blood and contain all the elements of life. Positively

CURES KIDNEY AND BLADDER TROUBLES,

Rheumatism, All Diseases of the Blood, Backache, Nervous Dyspepsia, Clear the Complexion and Aid Digestion.

Give you a good appetite, renew life cells in young and old. Permanently restore youthful vigor and vitality. They tone up the whole system and make you feel like a new person. No remedy in the world to equal them. Take a few Nervan Tablets and note the wonderful effect.

ALCOHOL IN ALL LIQUID KIDNEY AND RHEUMATIC REMEDIES CONDEMNS THEM.

An ignorantly compounded remedy, containing alcohol, as nearly all kidney remedies do, will stimulate them so violently that an inflammation will be set up and instead of being merely lazy the kidneys will become diseased. Alcohol congests the kidneys with blood and retards their activity.

There is no Alcohol in Nervan Tablets to interfere with the removal of all harmful sediment from the body. The Tablets soothe and heal the kidneys when they are irritated and inflamed. They cure the kidney diseases that make you dizzy, restless, sleepless and irritable; that make you pass water often during the day and night; that cause rheumatism, catarrh of the bladder, pain in the back, joints and muscles; that make your head ache and indigestion, stomach and liver trouble, and a sallow, yellow complexion.

No matter how many other remedies you may have tried and found useless, remember the great modern remedy, Nervan Tablets.

That Is the Main Cause For Her Disagreement With the Smith Family.

A fight of long duration between two families in Jethro has at last reached the mayor's court. The parties implicated are Mike Smith, wife and son and Mrs. Shaffer. The latter charges the trio with throwing stones at her and her children, and many other things. Mrs. Shaffer stated this morning at the city hall that some very funny evidence would be produced at the hearing which will likely be tomorrow evening. She said that the trouble originated over eight small black cats.

Mrs. Shaffer never did like cats and it seems to be a hobby of the Smith family to raise them. They have eight and when the little things roamed over into the yard of Mrs. Shaffer a kick was immediately registered.

AN OHIO MAN THE DEFENDANT

Two Suits Against R. C. Penfield Pending in New Jersey U. S. Court.

THE CHARGES ARE GRAVE

From a Staff Correspondent.

Trenton, N. J., September 14.—(Special)—One of the principal cases to be tried at the September term of the United States court will be that of Raymond C. Penfield, an Ohio citizen, against whom two suits are pending, charging him with juggling the paper of the Great Eastern Clay Manufacturing company and the National Clay Manufacturing company, two corporations operating under charters granted by New Jersey.

The financial affairs of the two companies are in such shape that a petition was filed in the United States District court this week, asking for the appointment of a receiver to manage their affairs. In compliance with the petition, Judge Kirkpatrick has appointed the Continental Trust company of New York, ancilliary receiver.

The complainant in each suit is the Standard Vetrified Conduit company of New York city. In the suit involving the National Clay Manufacturing company it is claimed that there is owing the company a note for $4,000 of the date of August 31, 1903, on which demand has been made for payment.

Penfield is charged in the bill of complaint of being the owner of all the capital stock of the American Clay Working Machine company of Ohio, and further, that he controls more than half of the million dollar capitalization of the National Clay Manufacturing company. It is claimed in the bill that Penfield has gained control of the latter company's affairs and has caused to be issued more than $250,000 of stock which he has used for his own benefit in other business ventures.

The complainants assert that in spite of the recent stock issued being protected by the valuable clay property of the National company in Perth Amboy, and which acts as security to a certain specified dividend, there is a likelihood of the assets of the company being sold to satisfy the claims of the stockholders. The bill charges that this stock is in the hands of innocent third parties and is about ready to be presented for payment for the dividends guaranteed by the National company's Perth Amboy holdings.

Similar charges are made against Penfield in the suit involving the Great Eastern Clay company, with the exception that a note which also matured August 31 last, is for $2,500 and that he is charged with "juggling" $400,000 worth of notes in the name of the concern and for his own use. The Great Eastern Clay company, which is likewise capitalized at $1,000,000, is declared to be in the control of Penfield. It owns with the National company rich properties at Perth Amboy.

Considerable interest is attached to the outcome of the suit, especially among the manufacturing potters and brickmakers of this city, as many of them purchase their clay in the raw state from the two clay companies. In fact, the two companies furnish a large part of the clay used in the manufacture of crockery and terra-cotta and pending the outcome of the suits their plants have been shut down.

The Young Men's Christian Association has commenced the educational campaign among the potters with apparently good results. Through arrangements with Vice President Hutchins, F. P. Lamphere, educational director of the association, has made arrangements to have the work of the association brought before the locals comprising the local representation of the National Brotherhood of Operative Potters. Thursday night Mr. Lamphere addressed the kilnmen and the following other dates have been arragned: September 15, sanitary workers; September 16, turners, throwers and handlers; September 18, packers; September 21, dippers; September 22, jiggermen, and September 23, saggermakers.

Thursday during the noon hour Mr. Lamphere conducted an educational meeting for the men of the Willetts pottery. About 100 employes were present. They were addressed by Mr. Lamphere and D. B. Marks, membership secretary, and Messrs. Stephen Hutchinson, and Hill, of the shop committee. Yesterday a similar meeting was held at the plant of the Trenton Lamp company. Meetings were held early in the week at the Trenton Fire Clay works, the Maddock pottery, the Empire pottery and the Ideal pottery.

The gas question has reached a stage where it requires to be handled with delicacy and discretion. The manufacturers have been convinced by the representatives of the gas trust that their supply will be shut off at the expiration of existing contracts if the city proceeds to get the injunction asked. That would be a serious blow to the city—far more serious than the increase which the gas trust is demanding. The popular impression—which the News Review has shared—has been that the gas combine would surrender to the terms of the city before it would abandon the large business it has been doing here. The statement coming from the manufacturers that the gas people will not fight the injunction but will withdraw from the field if enjoined puts a different phase upon the matter. Council should thoroughly investigate all sides of the question before taking radical action. If the city cannot have gas after it gets the injunction it will win a barren and costly victory. The gas company evidently has a wholesome respect for the Ohio law, but even the law cannot compel it to do business unless it wants to. The question confronting council is whether the combine is bluffing; if it is not, the city should go slowly. We believe in standing up for the people's interests; but it is not to anybody's interest to cut off the gas supply.

Some of the trusts will soon cease to trouble our Democratic friends, or anybody else, for that matter. It appears that forty-five of the corporations made in New Jersey have been placed in the hands of receivers since the first of the year, but their liabilities are fourteen times as great as their assets, and that the stockholders in a majority of them are not likely to get anything worth mentioning out of their investment. There is nothing surprising in this revelation. The day has gone by when watered stock is in demand, and the bulk of the assets of these corporations which have failed appear to have been wind and water.

The city of Cleveland is having trouble similar to that experienced by East Liverpool in disposing of its bonds. On last Friday bids were opened for $600,000 worth of twenty-year 4 per cents. Bond buyers asked for only $120,000 worth of them. The premium bid was $15 for twenty thousand dollars' worth, and $50 each for two lots of fifty thousand. This does not prove that there is anything wrong with the money market. Rather, it is an indication that capital seeks and finds more profitable opportunities than investments that pay only 4 per cent.

The London Spectator suggests a new method, and an effective one, of dealing with the Turkish question. It is for a combined fleet of the European powers to anchor in front of Constantinople, and to order the retirement of the sultan and the Turkish government across the Bosphorus to Asia, relinquishing European Turkey to the Powers.

Six inches of snow and genuine blizzards in the west while midsummer brightness overspreads the east are conditions not calculated to trouble those who neglected to take Horace Greeley's advice.

The sultan's soldiers are such brave fighters it is a pity they are not fighting for the right rather than for the upholding of a government which no one respects and the whole world loathes.

AT THE THEATER

"An Indiana Romance," a new play from the pen of J. C. Nugent, will be the attraction at the Grand Tuesday evening. This highly successful pastoral comedy drama belongs to a class of dramatic literature that appeals strongly to the emotions, while not offending the intelligence of the conscious theater-goer. As a play, and considered in that light, it is a valuable addition to the contemporary drama, because it accurately presents a phase of real country life in a story in which is splendidly moulded the qualities of pathos and humor, as they should be presented on the stage.

One of the very best attractions of the season, Lizzie Evans in the comedy drama, "At Cozy Corners," is coming to the Grand on Thursday evening. Miss Evans is too well known to theatre-goers to require any of the extravagant praise that usually proceeds theatrical stars. She has built up a great reputation by her splendid talents. She is an energetic little actress, full of ginger and magnetism and her portrayal of "Claudia, a violinist," in "Cozy Corners" is considered the most fetching thing she has ever done.

No writer has given such clear, keen description of the English peasant life as Thomas Hardy does in his various novels, all of which have been published in 100,000 editions. His "Tess of the D'Urbervilles" was dramatized by Lorrimer Stoddard for Harrison Gray Fiske, whose production of it in New York received the greatest endorsements given to a drama in recent years.

Miss Carline Rohr is starring this season in "Tess of the D'Urbervilles." Her portrayal of the dairy maid is most effective, graceful and natural and has been called by some writers the ideal "Tess."

AT THE THEATER

"An Indiana Romance," a new play from the pen of J. C. Nugent, will be the attraction at the Grand Tuesday evening. This highly successful pastoral comedy drama belongs to a class of dramatic literature that appeals strongly to the emotions, while not offending the intelligence of the conscious theater-goer. As a play, and considered in that light, it is a valuable addition to the contemporary drama, because it accurately presents a phase of real country life in a story in which is splendidly moulded the qualities of pathos and humor, as they should be presented on the stage.

One of the very best attractions of the season, Lizzie Evans in the comedy drama, "At Cozy Corners," is coming to the Grand on Thursday evening. Miss Evans is too well known to theatre-goers to require any of the extravagant praise that usually proceeds theatrical stars. She has built up a great reputation by her splendid talents. She is an energetic little actress, full of ginger and magnetism and her portrayal of "Claudia, a violinist," in "Cozy Corners" is considered the most fetching thing she has ever done.

No writer has given such clear, keen description of the English peasant life as Thomas Hardy does in his various novels, all of which have been published in 100,000 editions. His "Tess of the D'Urbervilles" was dramatized by Lorrimer Stoddard for Harrison Gray Fiske, whose production of it in New York received the greatest endorsements given to a drama in recent years.

Miss Carline Rohr is starring this season in "Tess of the D'Urbervilles." Her portrayal of the dairy maid is most effective, graceful and natural and has been called by some writers the ideal "Tess."

WELLSVILLE

THREE HOUSES WERE VISITED

WELLSVILLE BURGLARS PUT IN AN ACTIVE NIGHT.

Watch, Money and Eatables Were Secured—No Clue As to the Thieves' Identity.

Nevada street, near Eighteenth street, was the scene of a number of burglaries last night, two men having entered three different houses and succeeding in securing a watch, a pocketbook containing a small amount of money, and numerous pies, cakes and other eatables.

The house of Mr. Mackie, the home of Alexander Gerran, and one other house were entered by two men shortly after 12 o'clock. It is presumed that the burglars were amateurs in the business or probably tramps, judging from the manner in which they entered the houses. The Mackie house was entered by way of the outside cellar door which was not locked securely and was forced open. The Gerran home was entered by an outside door which was also unfastened. In the third house the men were unable to enter further than the cellar. Nothing was secured at the Mackie home, the men being frightened away by two young lady occupants of the house who had not yet retired. The valuables mentioned and all available eatables were taken at the Gerran home, while at the third house only canned fruit is missing.

The burglars left no clue to their identity, although local officers believe that the men are still in the city. They are now working on the case and arrests may follow.

BIDS RECEIVED

For the Paving of Lisbon Road By Board of Public Service.

A special meeting of the board of public service was held Saturday afternoon for the purpose of opening the new bids on the paving of Lisbon road, a contract which was bid on two weeks ago, and for which the bids were all rejected because of an irregularity. Bids were received from the following contractors: A. B. Clark, C. A. Freshwater, Rinehart Bros. and Mr. McLaughlin.

On motion of Bowers, the bids were ordered referred to City Civil Engineer Leith, with instructions to go over same and report the lowest bidder at the Tuesday morning session of the board.

From outside appearances and reading of the bids, it would seem that A. B. Clark is the lowest bidder, but this remains to be seen.

Mr. Bowers made a motion, after a report had been heard from Superintendent C. C. Ewing, of the water works, that the clerk of the board be instructed to purchase 300 bushels of coal for the water works pumping station for use in emergency purposes. The motion passed and the board adjourned.

Will Reed Has Such Faith in Mi-o-na the Flesh-Forming Food, He Sells It Under Guarantee.

Not one time in 500 does Mi-o-na fail to cure dyspepsia. It is because of its remarkable power to cure this disease that Will Reed is able to sell it in the following unusual way.

With every 50c box he gives a signed guarantee bond to refund the price if the purchaser can honestly tell him that it has not given freedom from stomach troubles, increased flesh, and restored health. The risk is all Mr. Reed's as the following bond which he signs fully shows:

GUARANTEE BOND.

I hereby agree to refund the price paid for Mi-o-na, if the purchaser tells me that it has not increased flesh and given freedom from stomach troubles. WILL REED.

Mi-o-na is not a mere digestive that simply gives temporary relief.

While it helps the food to digest, it also has a positive strengthening action upon the digestive organs and puts the whole system in proper physical condition. It restores power to the nerves of the stomach and in this way gives that important organ the power to digest food. In this way natural flesh is regained and health restored.

Remember that you risk nothing in buying Mi-o-na. The bond protects you, so that if it fails to give the desired effect, Will Reed will return your money without question and without argument.

Small Blaze in a House.

A small fire broke out Saturday evening shortly after 5 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Martin Barth, Main and Seventeenth streets. A railroad man saw flames issuing from the garret window and at once went in search for the pony engine which is sometimes used for fire purposes in the yards. The engine, in charge of Engineer Humphrey, was soon brought to the scene. It was found that a pile of old clothes had caught fire, presumably from a spark from an engine. The fire was quickly extinguished and but little damage was done.

Date of Band Dance.

A meeting of the new band organization was held here a few evenings ago at the call of Mayor Fogo, who is the prime mover in the project, for the purpose of selecting a date for the benefit dance which was to have been held in the city hall a week or so ago, but which was postponed because enough tickets had not been sold to guarantee the success of the venture. It was decided at this meeting to hold the dance, rain or shine, on Thursday evening, September 24, and the members were urged to rush the sale of tickets.

AN AGED CITIZEN EXPIRED SUDDENLY

Venerable William Burbick Fell Dead of Heart Disease Saturday.

Lisbon, September 14.—(Special)—William Burbick, who had spent nearly all of the 81 years of his life in Center township, died suddenly Saturday afternoon of heart trouble, at the home of his daughter, Mrs. G. E. Randalls, in Hanover township. Up to the time when he fell dead Mr. Burbick was apparent in his usual health. He was born February 20, 1822, in Center township, was a lifeling Democrat and never voted but once outside of Center township.

In his youth with his father he was engaged in carrying on a trading business on the Ohio and Mississippi rivers. On Christmas, 1852, he married Miss Nancy Fife, and they celebrated their golden wedding last year at the home of their daughter, Mrs. J. O. Ewing, in Wayne township. Mrs. Burbick survives her husband. Until two years ago, when they went to make their home with their children, they lived on their farm in Center township, two miles south-west of Lisbon. Mr. Burbick joined the Lisbon Presbyterian church April 14, 1849, was ordained an elder September 25 in 1870, and at the time of his death was the oldest member of the session.

SOUTH SIDE

THE POLITICIANS WERE OUT IN FORCE

Took Advantage of the Hancock County Picnic to Get Acquainted With the People.

The Hancock county picnic on the occasion of its last celebration was notable for one thing, at least. There were more politicians and prospective candidates present than ever was gathered together at one place before. They came to the park early and throughout the entire day the "glad hand" did over time. Hancock county, as West Virginia, can now be counted upon to take its place in the Republican list, and for that reason the party primaries have a much greater significance than in any previous year.

For every office in the gift of the party there are a number of candidates, and when the primary election is held in Hancock county next spring there will be the scramble for place the like of which has never before been known. The two candidates for congressional honors were at Rock Springs Saturday, and from that down to the smallest and most insignificant position in the county, the aspirants were putting in their best licks.

Among those who are said to have made the best impression was J. S. D. Mercer, of Chester, who is a candidate for county assessor. Mr. Mercer has been mayor of Chester for some time and has filled the office with credit to himself. He has been so successful with the administration that the town is pointed to as a model.

So much interest was manifested in the work of the politicians at the county picnic that some of the leaders called a caucus, which was held in New Cumberland yesterday. It is not known what the candidates and their friends decided upon, but it is understood the slate for the coming primary was partially completed.

CAME NEAR DROWNING

John Mackey, a Jethro Lad, Had a Narrow Escape Saturday Evening.

John Mackey, a 13-year-old boy residing with his parents on Florence street, West End, came near losing his life by drowning in the river opposite Jethro Saturday evening. The lad, with a number of companions, was in bathing, and Mackey wandered too far from shore. It is thought he was seized with cramps and could not help himself.

His terrible plight was discovered by William Portman, an aged resident of Jethro, and seizing an oar he jumped into a skiff and succeeded in rescuing the boy just as he was disappearing beneath the water for the last time. The lad was taken to his home in the patrol.

CHESTER NOW HAS THE BOND MONEY

Seasongood & Mayer Take Up the $22,000 Issue After Months of Delay.

After months of delay caused by prospective buyers making careful inquiry into the regularity of the issue, the $22,000 of Chester bonds were delivered to Seasongood & Mayer, of Cincinnati, and the officials of the town now have the money.

Bond Commissioners O. O. Allison and George D. Ingram, with Recorder J. H. Maxwell and Mayor Mercer, met with the representative of the company at the First National bank of Chester at 1:30 this afternoon and the bonds were sealed, signed and delivered within a few minutes. The transaction will relieve an embarrassed condition under which the town has labored for several months, and the citizens and authorities alike are gratified.

OIL OPERATIONS

New Rigs Will Be Put Up Near Chester Within the Next Few Days.

Several more oil rigs will be located in the vicinity of Chester within the next few days, and from now until late in the fall oil operations will be active.

A well have been located on the old Waitman Allison farm, now the property of Pittsburg parties, and the contract for the drilling has been let to William Hyte. The drilling machinery has been hauled to the spot and is being set up as fast as possible.

Young Gamblers Arrested.

Harry Fodrey, Walter Nookes and Harry Greenley were arrested by Sergeant Allison yesterday. The lads were engaged in a quiet game of penny ante and were surprised at the interference of the officer. They were taken before Mayor Mercer, who imposed a fine of $1 and costs. They promised to pay and were released. Numerous complaints have been made to the authorities regarding violations of the law on the part of boys from East Liverpool, who congregate at the Pusey orchard each Sunday and the nuisance will be abated at any cost.

Pocket Picking Charged.

Officer Baker arrested Thomas Dailey, of Steubenville, Saturday evening on a charge of pocket picking. One of the picnickers, becoming drunk, lay down for a sleep, and his wife alleges she caught Dailey in the act of rifling her husband's pockets. The man was taken to jail and remained over night. It was found Dailey had not succeeded in securing any booty, and as the woman did not appear to prosecute, he was released.

Great Attractions.

The great Albini gave excellent satisfaction to over 800 people at the park theater Sunday. He gave all he promised and kept his audience surprised, amazed and laughing for an hour and a half. The Panzars, society sketch, and the great Albini in a new program. Saturday night will be amateur night.

John McDonald and wife, of Pittsburg, are the guests of Al McDonald and family.

Mrs. M. Carson and family will move into their new home on Carolina avenue within the next week. The residence is one of the finest in Chester.

Harry Miller and A. M. Carnahan were arrested at the park Saturday evening by Officer Baker. Each was fined by the mayor, and arranging for the payment were released. The charge was drunkenness.

A Serious Affliction.

Lisbon, September 14.—(Special)—D. W. Jackson, the Erie mail agent, is off duty and suffering from a peculiar affliction. Some days ago he got a cinder in his eye, causing it to become much inflamed and swollen with what is called cinder poisoning.

There are already a number of applicants for the position. Mr. Moore will probably enter the Cincinnati law school the last of this month.

EXAMINERS AT WORK ON B & L BOOKS

A State Official Examining the Condition of the Local Association.

Special Examiner D. P. McCorkle, of the state insurance department at Columbus, is in the city, hard at work in the examination of the books, etc., connected with all of the local building and loan associations. Mr. McCorkle has been at work for several days and states that he may be in the city for several weeks. He is a man well qualified for the responsible position he holds, having had years of practical experience and having been connected with the insurance department of the state for four years.

Though his work will not be of as much local interest as was that of Mr. MacKenzie, who examined the books of the city clerk and the water works, it will be of great interest to all connected in any manner with the loan offices of the city, and his report, which will be submitted to the authorities at Columbus upon his completion of the work here, will be looked forward to with considerable interest.

A small fire broke out Saturday evening shortly after 5 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Martin Barth, Main and Seventeenth streets. A railroad man saw flames issuing from the garret window and at once went in search for the pony engine which is sometimes used for fire purposes in the yards. The engine, in charge of Engineer Humphrey, was soon brought to the scene. It was found that a pile of old clothes had caught fire, presumably from a spark from an engine. The fire was quickly extinguished and but little damage was done.

Date of Band Dance.

A meeting of the new band organization was held here a few evenings ago at the call of Mayor Fogo, who is the prime mover in the project, for the purpose of selecting a date for the benefit dance which was to have been held in the city hall a week or so ago, but which was postponed because enough tickets had not been sold to guarantee the success of the venture. It was decided at this meeting to hold the dance, rain or shine, on Thursday evening, September 24, and the members were urged to rush the sale of tickets.

Venerable William Burbick Fell Dead of Heart Disease Saturday.

Lisbon, September 14.—(Special)—William Burbick, who had spent nearly all of the 81 years of his life in Center township, died suddenly Saturday afternoon of heart trouble, at the home of his daughter, Mrs. G. E. Randalls, in Hanover township. Up to the time when he fell dead Mr. Burbick was apparent in his usual health. He was born February 20, 1822, in Center township, was a lifeling Democrat and never voted but once outside of Center township.

In his youth with his father he was engaged in carrying on a trading business on the Ohio and Mississippi rivers. On Christmas, 1852, he married Miss Nancy Fife, and they celebrated their golden wedding last year at the home of their daughter, Mrs. J. O. Ewing, in Wayne township. Mrs. Burbick survives her husband. Until two years ago, when they went to make their home with their children, they lived on their farm in Center township, two miles south-west of Lisbon. Mr. Burbick joined the Lisbon Presbyterian church April 14, 1849, was ordained an elder September 25 in 1870, and at the time of his death was the oldest member of the session.

He leaves two daughters, Mrs. J. O. Ewing, Wayne township, and Mrs. George E. Randalls, Hanover township. The deceased wife of Charles H. Mason, of Lisbon, was a daughter.

The funeral will be held at 9 a. m. at the Randalls home, after which the body will be brought to Lisbon and further services held at the Presbyterian church. Rev. J. P. Andrews will preach. Burial will be made in the Lisbon cemetery.

Close tomorrow afternoon at 6 o'clock on account of the News Review picnic. Open Wednesday morning as usual, with a new line of Clothcraft clothes. Joseph Bros.

SOUTH SIDE

THE POLITICIANS WERE OUT IN FORCE

Took Advantage of the Hancock County Picnic to Get Acquainted With the People.

The Hancock county picnic on the occasion of its last celebration was notable for one thing, at least. There were more politicians and prospective candidates present than ever was gathered together at one place before. They came to the park early and throughout the entire day the "glad hand" did over time. Hancock county, as West Virginia, can now be counted upon to take its place in the Republican list, and for that reason the party primaries have a much greater significance than in any previous year.

For every office in the gift of the party there are a number of candidates, and when the primary election is held in Hancock county next spring there will be the scramble for place the like of which has never before been known. The two candidates for congressional honors were at Rock Springs Saturday, and from that down to the smallest and most insignificant position in the county, the aspirants were putting in their best licks.

Among those who are said to have made the best impression was J. S. D. Mercer, of Chester, who is a candidate for county assessor. Mr. Mercer has been mayor of Chester for some time and has filled the office with credit to himself. He has been so successful with the administration that the town is pointed to as a model.

So much interest was manifested in the work of the politicians at the county picnic that some of the leaders called a caucus, which was held in New Cumberland yesterday. It is not known what the candidates and their friends decided upon, but it is understood the slate for the coming primary was partially completed.

CAME NEAR DROWNING

John Mackey, a Jethro Lad, Had a Narrow Escape Saturday Evening.

John Mackey, a 13-year-old boy residing with his parents on Florence street, West End, came near losing his life by drowning in the river opposite Jethro Saturday evening. The lad, with a number of companions, was in bathing, and Mackey wandered too far from shore. It is thought he was seized with cramps and could not help himself.

His terrible plight was discovered by William Portman, an aged resident of Jethro, and seizing an oar he jumped into a skiff and succeeded in rescuing the boy just as he was disappearing beneath the water for the last time. The lad was taken to his home in the patrol.

Seasongood & Mayer Take Up the $22,000 Issue After Months of Delay.

After months of delay caused by prospective buyers making careful inquiry into the regularity of the issue, the $22,000 of Chester bonds were delivered to Seasongood & Mayer, of Cincinnati, and the officials of the town now have the money.

Bond Commissioners O. O. Allison and George D. Ingram, with Recorder J. H. Maxwell and Mayor Mercer, met with the representative of the company at the First National bank of Chester at 1:30 this afternoon and the bonds were sealed, signed and delivered within a few minutes. The transaction will relieve an embarrassed condition under which the town has labored for several months, and the citizens and authorities alike are gratified.

OIL OPERATIONS

New Rigs Will Be Put Up Near Chester Within the Next Few Days.

Several more oil rigs will be located in the vicinity of Chester within the next few days, and from now until late in the fall oil operations will be active.

A well have been located on the old Waitman Allison farm, now the property of Pittsburg parties, and the contract for the drilling has been let to William Hyte. The drilling machinery has been hauled to the spot and is being set up as fast as possible.

Young Gamblers Arrested.

Harry Fodrey, Walter Nookes and Harry Greenley were arrested by Sergeant Allison yesterday. The lads were engaged in a quiet game of penny ante and were surprised at the interference of the officer. They were taken before Mayor Mercer, who imposed a fine of $1 and costs. They promised to pay and were released. Numerous complaints have been made to the authorities regarding violations of the law on the part of boys from East Liverpool, who congregate at the Pusey orchard each Sunday and the nuisance will be abated at any cost.

Pocket Picking Charged.

Officer Baker arrested Thomas Dailey, of Steubenville, Saturday evening on a charge of pocket picking. One of the picnickers, becoming drunk, lay down for a sleep, and his wife alleges she caught Dailey in the act of rifling her husband's pockets. The man was taken to jail and remained over night. It was found Dailey had not succeeded in securing any booty, and as the woman did not appear to prosecute, he was released.

EXAMINERS AT WORK ON B & L BOOKS

A State Official Examining the Condition of the Local Association.

Special Examiner D. P. McCorkle, of the state insurance department at Columbus, is in the city, hard at work in the examination of the books, etc., connected with all of the local building and loan associations. Mr. McCorkle has been at work for several days and states that he may be in the city for several weeks. He is a man well qualified for the responsible position he holds, having had years of practical experience and having been connected with the insurance department of the state for four years.

Though his work will not be of as much local interest as was that of Mr. MacKenzie, who examined the books of the city clerk and the water works, it will be of great interest to all connected in any manner with the loan offices of the city, and his report, which will be submitted to the authorities at Columbus upon his completion of the work here, will be looked forward to with considerable interest.

CHRONIC SORES

Signs of Polluted Blood.

There is nothing so repulsive looking and disgusting as an old sore. You worry over it till the brain grows weary and work with it until the patience is exhausted, and the very sight of the old festering, sickly looking place makes you irritable, despondent and desperate.

A chronic sore is the very best evidence that your blood is in an unhealthy and impoverished condition, that your constitution is breaking down under the effects of some serious disorder. The taking of strong medicines, like mercury or potash, will sometimes so pollute and vitiate the blood and impair the general system that the merest scratch or bruise results in obstinate non-healing sores of the most offensive character.

Often an inherited taint breaks out in frightful eating sores upon the limbs or face in old age or middle life. Whenever a sore refuses to heal the blood is always at fault, and, while antiseptic washes, salves, soaps and powders can do much to keep down the inflammation and cleanse the sore, it will never heal permanently till the blood itself has been purified and the deadly germs and poisons destroyed, and with S. S. S. this can be accomplished—the polluted blood is purified and invigorated, and when rich, pure blood is again circulating freely throughout the body the flesh around the old sore begins to take on a natural color, the discharge of matter ceases and the place heals over.

S. S. S. is both a blood purifier and tonic that puts your blood in order and at the same time tones up the system and builds up the general health. If you have a chronic sore write us. No charge for medical advice.

DRAVOSBURG LOST THE SECOND GAME

The Visiting Pitcher's Performance Was Good But Not Victorious.

HE GOT OUT OF THE BOX

After Nine Runs Had Been Scored Against His Side and His Successor Failed to Save the Day—A Strenuous and Interesting Contest.

Pitcher Spittal, who was sent to the slab for the Dravosburg team in Saturday's game at the West End park did a balloon ascension in the sixth inning, just in time to save the bacon of one Morg Winters, who was getting bumped with startling regularity.

While the visiting twirler was not setting up as a rival of Prof. Kincaid, who is to make two balloon ascensions at the News Review's big picnic tomorrow, he gave a performance that was very satisfactory to the local fans. The batting streak which inflated his balloon for the trip, coming as it did with two hands down, was the prettiest and lengthiest swatfest seen on the local grounds this season. While it was going on Morg was sitting on the home players' bench shaking hands with himself. In that round, after Woods had dropped Vasbinder's easy sky scraper, every man on the team scored a run and every man, except Vasbinder, found Spittal for a safety.

After the eighth hit and ninth run Spittal concluded that the locals would "make a hundred" if he remained in the box and he threw up the sponge. Welsh, who pitched Friday's game, answered the distress signal and stopped the fusilade by retiring the first man that faced him.

For the first five innings the contest was a pretty one, the score being 2 to 1 in favor of the locals. Spittal had been a puzzle and the locals had found him safely but three times. The two runs were scored on one of the most peculiar plays ever seen on the local diamond, heady base running making the play possible. Only one hit figured in these scores. The visitors had three hits in the second, productive of but one run.

Besides swatting the leather hard the locals put up on errorless game in the field, the only sign of an error coming in the third when Osborne laid down a bunt toward first. Winters started to field the ball, but concluded to let Webb have it. This mixup gave Osborne a chance to reach the bag, and though Webb failed to pick up the ball, he cannot be charged with an error.

Those two in the first, curiously brought about, looked as big as a dozen for awhile. After the visitors had failed Gibson walked and Wallace beat out a slow one. Brown was presented with a pass, filling all the corners. While Spittal was pitching to Heck Weisser tried to wing Brown at first and whipped the ball there before Brown, who had been taking big leads, could get back. Brown darted to second and the procession moved. Wallace forced off his perch at bag No. 2 made for third and Gibby made room for him by starting home. Woods threw to Rowe to nail Brown as Gibby left third and Rowe held the ball a moment too long before trying to nail Gibby. As the leather reached Weisser Gibby took the dirt and by a magnificent slide was safe. Weisser threw to second and Wallace started home, scoring when Weisser failed to hold the return to catch him.

The visitors made one in the second. Porte singled and Welsh hit safely to right. Boyle walked, filling the bases and after Spittal had failed to connect, Hill hit one to center. Porte scored, but Vasbinder by a magnificent throw to the plate nailed Welsh.

Three little hits when the sixth round was reached looked like mighty slim picking alongside the cluster of six the visitors had gathered from Morg's shoots and slants. But here Spittal got his bumps. With two down Heck was given a base on balls and Woods failed to retire the side by dropping Vasbinder's high fly. A passed ball helped both runners up a peg and Vasbinder scored when Webb cracked out a safety. Webb stole second and Jarvis dropped a fly in safe territory back of short, Heck counting. Emmerling poked one into safe territory, scoring Webb, and Winters cleared the sacks with a three-ply lick. Gibby scored Morg with a clean lick and Wallace helped Gibby to third with a single, both scoring when Brown singled. Heck made the eighth hit of the inning, scoring Brown with the ninth run. Spittal saw he could not stop the performance and called Welsh to the slab.

In the seventh the visitors made four. Spittal walked and was helped along on Hill's safety. Rowe's single scored Spittal and Weisser cleared the bases with a triple, scoring on a long fly. The consecutive passes and Hill's single gave them another in the eighth and in the ninth Weisser made his second triple, scoring on an out. The score:

LOCAL ATHLETICS WON FROM WELLSVILLE

A Short But Very Interesting Game Played in the Sister City Saturday.

The game at Central park, Wellsville, Saturday, between the East Liverpool Athletics and the Wellsville Athletics, though short, was one of the most interesting that has been played in the sister city this season. Five innings only were played and it resulted in the score of 2 to 0 in favor of the Crockery City lads.

Owing to a misunderstanding a very small crowd witnessed the contest. The management of the Wellsville team had not advertised the game at all, and when the time came for playing only half of his men were on the ground. Notwithstanding these drawbacks the two teams played with spirit and did themselves credit. Tommie Davis pitched for the locals and his playmates were reminded of years ago when he held down the rubber at all times. He seems to have more speed than ever and his curves are great. Wellsville fought him hard and made vicious attempts to hit him up for a few long ones, but it was not in them. He held his control to the right pitch and let them down with three measly hits. Ashbaugh, of New Cumberland, pitched for Wellsville and he, too, did good work. Only five hits were made off of him and they were nothing to speak of. The teams have been nagging at each other for some time now and it is expected that a series of games will be arranged for them before the end of the season. The score:

East Liverpool ....0 1 0 1 0—2	5	0

Batteries—Davis and Emmerling; Ashbaugh and Coleman.

NEW CUMBERLAND LOST TO LEGAL STARS

Juveniles at Rock Springs Park Saturday Were Treated to Fine Exhibition.

Among the attractions of interest, especially to the young, at Rock Springs park Saturday, was the game of base ball played in the afternoon by a team of boys ranging in age from 12 to 15 years of New Cumberland, and the Legal Stars, of this city. After nine of the hardest innings experienced by boy teams in many months, the Stars won by a score of 8 to 5.

The New Cumberland team showed that it understood the game to perfection and it was not long after the contest was started until the local aggregation realized that to win the game meant a strenuous effort on the part of every player. Gibson, the well known twirler, of Wellsburg, was on the rubber for the West Virginians and he put them over in a style very mysterious. Smith, for the locals, however, were well represented in Smith. The score:

	R.	H.	E.
Legal Stars 8	12	3
New Cumberland 5	8	2

Batteries—Smith and Mounts; Gibson and Black.

The Genuine vs. the Counterfeits.

The genuine is always better than a counterfeit, but the truth of this statement is never more forcibly realized or more thoroughly appreciated than when you compare the genuine DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve with the many counterfeits and worthless substitutes that are on the market. W. S. Ledbetter, of Shreveport, La., says: "After using numerous other remedies without benefit, one box of DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve cured me." For blind, bleeding, itching and protruding piles no remedy is equal to DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve.

BOY BADLY HURT UPON THE STREETS

Knocked Down By a Horse And Got a Gash Upon His Forehead.

Carl Beebout, a small son of John Beebout, of College street, was run down by a horse on Washington street this morning and sustained severe injuries to his head.

A crowd of small boys were playing in the middle of the street. In some manner they became involved in a quarrel and were so intent upon the battle that they failed to notice the approach of the rig. Young Beebout ran directly toward the horse in an effort to get away and was knocked down. His forehead came in contact with the paving and a deep gash an inch in length was inflicted.

The lad was carried into Mrs. A. V. Thompson's store and was later taken to his home. The injuries, though painful, are not serious. The driver of the outfit was in no way to blame, as the horse was walking and the boys had no right in the street.

Go Prepared.

In preparing for your summer outing a little forethought may save you no end of trouble. Mr. John H. Mauly, a dry goods merchant, of Bellville, R. I., while packing an outfit for camping a few weeks on Narragansett Bay, put in a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy for emergency use. The second day in camp his little boy was taken with cramp colic. The first dose of this remedy gave relief and the second dose effected a cure. Think of the pain and suffering this boy would have had to endure without this remedy at hand to relieve him. Such cases often result fatally. For sale by Alvin H. Bulger.

DRAVOSBURG LOST THE SECOND GAME

HE GOT OUT OF THE BOX

Pitcher Spittal, who was sent to the slab for the Dravosburg team in Saturday's game at the West End park did a balloon ascension in the sixth inning, just in time to save the bacon of one Morg Winters, who was getting bumped with startling regularity.

While the visiting twirler was not setting up as a rival of Prof. Kincaid, who is to make two balloon ascensions at the News Review's big picnic tomorrow, he gave a performance that was very satisfactory to the local fans. The batting streak which inflated his balloon for the trip, coming as it did with two hands down, was the prettiest and lengthiest swatfest seen on the local grounds this season. While it was going on Morg was sitting on the home players' bench shaking hands with himself. In that round, after Woods had dropped Vasbinder's easy sky scraper, every man on the team scored a run and every man, except Vasbinder, found Spittal for a safety.

After the eighth hit and ninth run Spittal concluded that the locals would "make a hundred" if he remained in the box and he threw up the sponge. Welsh, who pitched Friday's game, answered the distress signal and stopped the fusilade by retiring the first man that faced him.

For the first five innings the contest was a pretty one, the score being 2 to 1 in favor of the locals. Spittal had been a puzzle and the locals had found him safely but three times. The two runs were scored on one of the most peculiar plays ever seen on the local diamond, heady base running making the play possible. Only one hit figured in these scores. The visitors had three hits in the second, productive of but one run.

Besides swatting the leather hard the locals put up on errorless game in the field, the only sign of an error coming in the third when Osborne laid down a bunt toward first. Winters started to field the ball, but concluded to let Webb have it. This mixup gave Osborne a chance to reach the bag, and though Webb failed to pick up the ball, he cannot be charged with an error.

Those two in the first, curiously brought about, looked as big as a dozen for awhile. After the visitors had failed Gibson walked and Wallace beat out a slow one. Brown was presented with a pass, filling all the corners. While Spittal was pitching to Heck Weisser tried to wing Brown at first and whipped the ball there before Brown, who had been taking big leads, could get back. Brown darted to second and the procession moved. Wallace forced off his perch at bag No. 2 made for third and Gibby made room for him by starting home. Woods threw to Rowe to nail Brown as Gibby left third and Rowe held the ball a moment too long before trying to nail Gibby. As the leather reached Weisser Gibby took the dirt and by a magnificent slide was safe. Weisser threw to second and Wallace started home, scoring when Weisser failed to hold the return to catch him.

The visitors made one in the second. Porte singled and Welsh hit safely to right. Boyle walked, filling the bases and after Spittal had failed to connect, Hill hit one to center. Porte scored, but Vasbinder by a magnificent throw to the plate nailed Welsh.

Three little hits when the sixth round was reached looked like mighty slim picking alongside the cluster of six the visitors had gathered from Morg's shoots and slants. But here Spittal got his bumps. With two down Heck was given a base on balls and Woods failed to retire the side by dropping Vasbinder's high fly. A passed ball helped both runners up a peg and Vasbinder scored when Webb cracked out a safety. Webb stole second and Jarvis dropped a fly in safe territory back of short, Heck counting. Emmerling poked one into safe territory, scoring Webb, and Winters cleared the sacks with a three-ply lick. Gibby scored Morg with a clean lick and Wallace helped Gibby to third with a single, both scoring when Brown singled. Heck made the eighth hit of the inning, scoring Brown with the ninth run. Spittal saw he could not stop the performance and called Welsh to the slab.

In the seventh the visitors made four. Spittal walked and was helped along on Hill's safety. Rowe's single scored Spittal and Weisser cleared the bases with a triple, scoring on a long fly. The consecutive passes and Hill's single gave them another in the eighth and in the ninth Weisser made his second triple, scoring on an out. The score:

The game at Central park, Wellsville, Saturday, between the East Liverpool Athletics and the Wellsville Athletics, though short, was one of the most interesting that has been played in the sister city this season. Five innings only were played and it resulted in the score of 2 to 0 in favor of the Crockery City lads.

Owing to a misunderstanding a very small crowd witnessed the contest. The management of the Wellsville team had not advertised the game at all, and when the time came for playing only half of his men were on the ground. Notwithstanding these drawbacks the two teams played with spirit and did themselves credit. Tommie Davis pitched for the locals and his playmates were reminded of years ago when he held down the rubber at all times. He seems to have more speed than ever and his curves are great. Wellsville fought him hard and made vicious attempts to hit him up for a few long ones, but it was not in them. He held his control to the right pitch and let them down with three measly hits. Ashbaugh, of New Cumberland, pitched for Wellsville and he, too, did good work. Only five hits were made off of him and they were nothing to speak of. The teams have been nagging at each other for some time now and it is expected that a series of games will be arranged for them before the end of the season. The score:

Batteries—Davis and Emmerling, Ashbaugh and Coleman.

Juveniles at Rock Springs Park Saturday Were Treated to Fine Exhibition.

Among the attractions of interest, especially to the young, at Rock Springs park Saturday, was the game of base ball played in the afternoon by a team of boys ranging in age from 12 to 15 years of New Cumberland, and the Legal Stars, of this city. After nine of the hardest innings experienced by boy teams in many months, the Stars won by a score of 8 to 5.

The New Cumberland team showed that it understood the game to perfection and it was not long after the contest was started until the local aggregation realized that to win the game meant a strenuous effort on the part of every player. Gibson, the well known twirler, of Wellsburg, was on the rubber for the West Virginians and he put them over in a style very mysterious. Smith, for the locals, however, were well represented in Smith. The score:

	R.	H.	E.
Legal Stars 8	12	3
New Cumberland 5	8	2

Batteries—Smith and Mounts; Gibson and Black.

The Genuine vs. the Counterfeits.

The genuine is always better than a counterfeit, but the truth of this statement is never more forcibly realized or more thoroughly appreciated than when you compare the genuine DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve with the many counterfeits and worthless substitutes that are on the market. W. S. Ledbetter, of Shreveport, La., says: "After using numerous other remedies without benefit, one box of DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve cured me." For blind, bleeding, itching and protruding piles no remedy is equal to DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve.

CHRONIC SORES

Signs of Polluted Blood.

There is nothing so repulsive looking and disgusting as an old sore. You worry over it till the brain grows weary and work with it until the patience is exhausted, and the very sight of the old festering, sickly looking place makes you irritable, despondent and desperate.

A chronic sore is the very best evidence that your blood is in an unhealthy and impoverished condition, that your constitution is breaking down under the effects of some serious disorder. The taking of strong medicines, like mercury or potash, will sometimes so pollute and vitiate the blood and impair the general system that the merest scratch or bruise results in obstinate non-healing sores of the most offensive character.

Often an inherited taint breaks out in frightful eating sores upon the limbs or face in old age or middle life. Whenever a sore refuses to heal the blood is always at fault, and, while antiseptic washes, salves, soaps and powders can do much to keep down the inflammation and cleanse the sore, it will never heal permanently till the blood itself has been purified and the deadly germs and poisons destroyed, and with S. S. S. this can be accomplished—the polluted blood is purified and invigorated, and when rich, pure blood is again circulating freely throughout the body the flesh around the old sore begins to take on a natural color, the discharge of matter ceases and the place heals over.

S. S. S. is both a blood purifier and tonic that puts your blood in order and at the same time tones up the system and builds up the general health. If you have a chronic sore write us. No charge for medical advice.

and cultivates the ideal life. It is the preacher's business to seize hold of this. There lies his power with the cultured hearer. In our beautiful service we make a common confession of sin.

"Why is our church service sometimes so neutral in character? We may not have the humility of the publican, whose worship eventuates in blessing, or we lack the audacity of the Pharisee who manifested his life in outward act and who stands a subject for correction. Let us with God's help worship like the publican. It is sad to be a Pharisee, yet better this than no worshipper at all, for our text knows of no third class. May Pharisaic worship cease and under God's blessing may there be one fold and one shepherd."

COMMUNION AT M. E. CHURCH

DR. MANCHESTER, PRESIDING ELDER, WAS THERE.

Dr. Pratt, at the Evening Service, Gave an Interesting And Able Sermon.

There was no preaching at the First M. E. church yesterday morning, the entire time being devoted to communion services. Rev. Dr. C. E. Manchester, presiding elder of the district, was present and he conducted the services in his usual acceptable manner. He was assisted by Rev. Dr. Pratt.

Prior to the service Dr. Pratt made a few remarks that were very entertaining to the church members in particular. He announced the pleasure derived from all of the meetings of the past week and extended a cordial invitation to every one in the congregation to attend all of the regular meetings this week. The present week is the last of the conference year and the minister said he thought the entire membership should be in attendance as much as possible. Relative to the organization that was formed a few weeks ago for the purpose of looking after the numberless girls of the city and community that are daily being led among the unrighteous paths the minister said that considerable good is already being done. He predicts that within the year the results of the organization will be wonderful.

"During the past two weeks," said he, there have been wonders worked among the classes for whom the organization was formed. The leaders in the movement have been hard after the young girls and their efforts positively have not been fruitless. There is not another city of the size in the state that so needs this kind of work. We have hundreds of unchaperoned girls working in local potteries who are daily brought into contact with vulgarism in its lowest degree and the wonder to me is that more of them do not fall astray."

In conclusion Dr. Pratt appealed to the congregation to help the cause by becoming a member of the organization and helping it get along by subscribing $1 per year for its maintenance. He said that $12 per week will be necessary to keep the movement going, that to include the expenses of the person ahead of it and numerous other little necessities.

At the evening's service Dr. Pratt's subject was "Hezekiah and His Poultice of Figs." He gave an intensely interesting account of how Hezekiah after many backslidings had at last succeeded to the throne and of the remarkable victory he gained, with the help of God, over Sennacherib, the crafty Assyrian warrior and king. Hezekiah was a reformer and sought by aggressive methods to overthrow the idols and superstitions of his people and lead them into the rightful worship of the living God. When he had been valiant and faithful for many years, he was not a little cast down when the heavy hand of affliction descended upon him, and when told by the prophet that he must die "turned his face toward the wall and prayed unto the Lord." His petition was heard and then the prophet came with the poultice of figs which he applied to the affliction with the statement that he would recover and live fifteen more years, the sun on the dial being set back fifteen degrees by divine agencies. The sickness and miraculous recovery of Hezekiah pictures the interest God takes in human affairs. There is no sense, no wisdom and no security in any human plan that leaves out God. There can be no safe reckoning when God is neglected and forgotten. Remorseless powers are ever at man's elbow and succor comes only through the grace and glory of God. Man must both work and pray, for one is ineffectual without the other.

Prayer will not cure the sick; a physician is always necessary, and between the skill of the doctor and the efficacy of prayer disease is rebuked. Man must co-operate with God in all things if success and salvation are attained.

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Don't Know it.

How To Find Out.

Fill a bottle or common glass with your water and let it stand twenty-four hours; a sediment or settling indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys; if it stains your linen it is evidence of kidney trouble; too frequent desire to pass it or pain in the back is also convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder are out of order.

What to Do.

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy fulfills every wish in curing rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in 50c. and $1. sizes.

You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful discovery and a book that tells more about it, both sent absolutely free by mail. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper.

STRENGTH OF YOUTH

The Young Man Particularly Well Fitted to Combat the Hosts of Evil.

Rev. C. G. Jordan last evening preached from Psalms 68:28, saying in part:

"Young men are peculiarly well fitted to fight the battles against the forces of sin. They have the vigor, enthusiasm, and the ambition to succeed. In fact, they know not their strength. William Pitt had attracted the attention of the civilized world by his eloquence when but 24 years of age. John Calvin did his great work before he was 30, and even Christ who had given a word that will never die was but 33 years old. Such examples of which history's pages are filled should give confidence to young men having worthy aspirations. But their strength is continually menaced by the forces of evil and their allies. Their strength may be misdirected because the church and churchmen often condone wrongs. An instance is that of the minister who recently contended that the Bible justified the awful crime of lynching."

The speaker called upon all to comply with God's command by stopping the desecration of the Sabbath and fighting the iniquities of politics and evil in every form.

PRESBYTERY MEETING

Resignation of Mr. Jordan and Call to Dr. Montgomery to Be Acted Upon.

The Steubenville Presbyterian presbytery meets at Smithfield this evening and tomorrow. Rev. P. W. Snyder, of Calcutta, retiring moderator, will preach the opening sermon. The resignation of Rev. C. G. Jordan as pastor in this city will be acted upon. Tomorrow evening Rev. W. B. Irwin, pastor of the Second Presbyterian church of Steubenville, will speak on home missions. Mr. Elder D. Moore, of this city, will deliver an address on the foreign missionary forward movement and Rev. Alexander Sharp, pastor of Potter chapel, Mingo Junction, will have an address on foreign missions in South Africa, where he was engaged for a number of years.

The commissioners chosen at the congregational meeting of the First church will be present to present the call to Rev. John Montgomery.

A Sermon on Education.

Rev. Dr. J. C. Taggart at the First U. P. church, preached on education, it being the day of prayer for the schools. He held that the Bible should be more generally taught to inculcate morality. The state, in undertaking to educate the people of whom it is the creature, shows itself to be a divine institution, and as such might well encourage Bible study in order to help to improve the people spiritually as well as to equip them for the struggle for existence.

A HEARING HELD IN POTTERY CASE

Injunction Proceedings Brought By E. J. Owens Argued Before Judge Robinson.

A hearing was begun Saturday before Judge Robinson, of Ravenna, in the injunction proceedings instituted by E. J. Owent against the East Liverpool Potteries company. Mr. Owens seeks to restrain the company from disposing of a part of its property, namely, the East End plant of the company, in which Mr. Owens was interested at the time of the consolidation.

The hearing of the case was continued from Saturday until today. A long distance telephone message to the News Review this afternoon stated that no decision had been handed down by Judge Robinson and that several days would elapse before it would be made known.

Dragged Under a Car.

Salineville, September 14.—(Special.)—Walter Goddard, aged 24, at the New Shaft mine Friday night, was hauling slate with a mule and car, when he tripped and fell on the tracks, the car running on him, and dragging him under it. He was unable to stop the mules, but managed to get out without having any bones broken. His cries soon attracted his fellow workmen, who hastily removed him to the outside of the mine. His back was badly sprained and it will lay him off work for a couple of months.

Girl Broke Her Wrist.

Lisbon, September 14.—(Special.)—The Furnace Sunday school picnic, held in Willitt's grove north of Lisbon Saturday afternoon, was attended by about 100. One accident occurred. more brutal. On July 15, last, he is said to have injured her arm so severely that the flesh was badly discolored and on August 10 is alleged to have struck her with his fists and otherwise treated her shamefully, injuring her mouth badly.

A second cause of action charges that by reason of drunkenness and dissipation, although fully able, he has failed properly to provide for his wife and child for several years and has grossly neglected them. The plaintiff says her husband owns a one-half interest in the business of Bagnall & Hilles, who are extensively engaged in electrical contracting with their principal office in Yokohoma, Japan, with branch offices in Singapore and New York. She further says he owns a lot in Salem, which is held in trust for him by Jacob D. Hilles; that he owns a one-half interest in lots 425 and 426 in Zadoc Street's fourth addition to Salem and that he owns lot 423 and part of lot 424 in the same addition. He is restrained from disposing of any of his property by a temporary injunction, pending a hearing of the case.

FROM EVERY QUARTER CROWDS ARE COMING

morrow, a game having been arranged for the occasion between the Rovers and the Brewery Athletic club. The members of both teams have been at practice for the past month, familiarizing themselves with the new plays and getting accustomed to the new rules. Several important changes have been made since last year, making the game cleaner, faster and less brutal.

It is the hope of the foot ball enthusiasts to interest those who like to witness athletic contests, as several teams will play here during the season. Thousands of people will witness the contest tomorrow and for this reason, if for no other, the players will put up the best article of sport possible. The result hoped for is that the spectators will patronize the games later in the season.

The Rovers and Brewery Athletic club are about evenly matched, so far as weight is concerned. The players of both elevens will average something near 140 pounds and the only advantage is in favor of the Rovers, they being for the most part older. Last year the Rovers had a very successful season, defeating some of the best teams in this section. The B. A. C. also won a number of games, defeating strong local clubs.

Manager Ashbaugh, of the Rovers, and Burgess, of the Brewery Athletic club, have agreed upon the officials for the game and well posted men have been selected. Alex Stevenson, who has been selected as assistant coach for the West Virginia university team, is to act as referee, and "Lefty" Baker, a well known local player, as umpire. One sub from each eleven will act as linesman and the same arrangement has been made for timekeepers. Owing to the extreme hot weather, the halves will be 15 minutes.

While the crowd will number into the thousands every effort will be made so that every spectator can have a full view of the field. The gridiron will be laid off east and west on the ball grounds, and those in the grand stand in the natural amphitheater can see every play.

To suit the crowds desiring to attend the Rock Springs theater tomorrow evening the display of fireworks to be put off at the park by the News Review, the performance will begin promptly at 8 o'clock. The pyrotechine display will be commenced at 9 o'clock and will be one of the main features of the big News Review picnic.

Hagee's Cordial of Cod Liver Oil is a thin, pleasant-tasting, pleasant-smelling fluid. It is not an emulson, and does not contain any grease or fishiness.

Hagee's Cordial is readily accepted by the most delicate stomach.

News Review's hobby tomorrow is their big picnic. With Joseph Bros. it's good clothes.

THERE WILL BE AMUSEMENT AND ENJOYMENT FOR OLD AND YOUNG AT ROCK SPRINGS PARK TOMORROW. THE NEWS REVIEW HAS MADE AMPLE PREPARATION FOR ENTERTAINING ALL ITS FRIENDS AND NEIGHBORS AND HOPES TO SEE THEM THERE BY THE THOUSAND.

SOCIAL EVENTS

Missionary Society Meeting.

It was announced last evening in the First Presbyterian church that the Woman's Missionary society would meet on Wednesday at 2:30 o'clock, after a vacation of 14 weeks. The session will open with a business meeting, followed by the making of plans for the work of the coming year. The meeting will be largely attended, as the society has a very good enrollment and is one of the strongest organizations of the church. Mrs. E. D. Moore will preside at the meeting. Miss Mazie Crawford, daughter of Mrs. Daniel Crawford, who has been doing wonderful work among the Indians of the far west, will be present and speak of this work. A social will conclude the meeting, and a general good time is anticipated. A number of the Presbyterian ladies will assist the president in the afternoon's entertainment.

Coming Wedding.

Rev. J. H. Norris, of Pittsblrg, has announced the coming marriage of his daughter, Miss Gertrude, to Mr. Harry Becis, of the same city. The event will be auspicious and interesting to the many friends of the contracting parties in Pittsburg. The ceremony will take place Wednesday next at Sebring. A large number of Pittsburg people will witness the marriage. The attendants will be the cousins of the bride, who are Messrs. Charles and Orville Sebring and Misses Helen, Elsie and Hazel Sebring.

Important Meeting.

A very important meeting of the ladies' auxiliary of the Y. M. C. A. will be held this evening at 7:30 o'clock in the Y. M. C. A. parlors. The business will be to arrange the cast for the "Breach of Promise Case," which is soon to be presented in this city. All those interested in the play, and those who wish to take part, are urged to be present.

Coming Wedding.

Lisbon, September 14.—(Special)—Announcement has just been made of the coming marriage of Edward Cassiday, of Pittsburg, and Miss Linnie Barlow, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Barlow, living a mile south of Lisbon. The marriage will take place next Thursday evening at the home of the bride's parents.

Married at Lisbon.

Lisbon, September 14.—(Special)—Thomas J. Caldwell and Miss Laura Ruhl, both of Church Hill, were married by Rev. J. P. Anderson at the Presbyterian parsonage Saturday afternoon.

Clunk-Morrison.

Lisbon, September 14.—(Special)—The marriage of Thomas Morrison and Miss Bessie Clunk, both of Lisbon, which took place in Wheeling last Monday, has just been announced.

Mr. News Review, at your big picnic, tell the people that good clothes can be seen in Joseph Bros.' show window.

MR. SHAWKE INDIGNANT

Hasty Action on the Part of an Official of the Union Is Charged.

J. R. Shawke, the well known horseshoer, is very indignant at the report that he has been conducting a non-union shop. He said this morning:

"The only notice I had that there was a man in my shop to which the union objected was when an officer of the union came in and accosted a man in my employ and asked him why he did not attend a Sunday meeting and pay $2.75 alleged to be due. The man replied that he did not attend to such business on Sunday. The walking delegate then seized the union card on the wall of my shop and tore it down, making threats of what he would do if I continued to employ such men.

"The only fair way would have been to make complaint to me. The man complained of was a union man and one of the charter members of the horseshoers' organization. I had no knowledge of him being in arrears in his dues, and I am sure he would have settled if given a chance.

"The statement that the teamsters endorsed the action of the horseshoers' official contains not a word of truth, as I have been assured by the chief officials of the teamsters."

To be in touch with the big picnic tomorrow, wear Clothcraft clothes, for your pocket book will be touched lightly by Joseph Bros.

morrow, a game having been arranged for the occasion between the Rovers and the Brewery Athletic club. The members of both teams have been at practice for the past month, familiarizing themselves with the new plays and getting accustomed to the new rules. Several important changes have been made since last year, making the game cleaner, faster and less brutal.

It is the hope of the foot ball enthusiasts to interest those who like to witness athletic contests, as several teams will play here during the season. Thousands of people will witness the contest tomorrow and for this reason, if for no other, the players will put up the best article of sport possible. The result hoped for is that the spectators will patronize the games later in the season.

The Rovers and Brewery Athletic club are about evenly matched, so far as weight is concerned. The players of both elevens will average something near 140 pounds and the only advantage is in favor of the Rovers, they being for the most part older. Last year the Rovers had a very successful season, defeating some of the best teams in this section. The B. A. C. also won a number of games, defeating strong local clubs.

Manager Ashbaugh, of the Rovers, and Burgess, of the Brewery Athletic club, have agreed upon the officials for the game and well posted men have been selected. Alex Stevenson, who has been selected as assistant coach for the West Virginia university team, is to act as referee, and "Lefty" Baker, a well known local player, as umpire. One sub from each eleven will act as linesman and the same arrangement has been made for timekeepers. Owing to the extreme hot weather, the halves will be 15 minutes.

While the crowd will number into the thousands every effort will be made so that every spectator can have a full view of the field. The gridiron will be laid off east and west on the ball grounds, and those in the grand stand in the natural amphitheater can see every play.

To suit the crowds desiring to attend the Rock Springs theater tomorrow evening the display of fireworks to be put off at the park by the News Review, the performance will begin promptly at 8 o'clock. The pyrotechine display will be commenced at 9 o'clock and will be one of the main features of the big News Review picnic.

Hagee's Cordial of Cod Liver Oil is a thin, pleasant-tasting, pleasant-smelling fluid. It is not an emulson, and does not contain any grease or fishiness.

MR. SHAWKE INDIGNANT

Hasty Action on the Part of an Official of the Union Is Charged.

J. R. Shawke, the well known horseshoer, is very indignant at the report that he has been conducting a non-union shop. He said this morning:

"The only notice I had that there was a man in my shop to which the union objected was when an officer of the union came in and accosted a man in my employ and asked him why he did not attend a Sunday meeting and pay $2.75 alleged to be due. The man replied that he did not attend to such business on Sunday. The walking delegate then seized the union card on the wall of my shop and tore it down, making threats of what he would do if I continued to employ such men.

"The only fair way would have been to make complaint to me. The man complained of was a union man and one of the charter members of the horseshoers' organization. I had no knowledge of him being in arrears in his dues, and I am sure he would have settled if given a chance.

"The statement that the teamsters endorsed the action of the horseshoers' official contains not a word of truth, as I have been assured by the chief officials of the teamsters."

To be in touch with the big picnic tomorrow, wear Clothcraft clothes, for your pocket book will be touched lightly by Joseph Bros.

Free lemonade will be served all day.

Dinner baskets and boxes will be checked free.

Admission to the park and all special attractions free. The regular park attractions will be running at the usual prices.

If tomorrow is like today the greatest throng that has assembled in Rock Springs park the present season will gather there as the guests of the News Review. Everybody and his wife and his wife's relatives for miles around will be present.

Nobody in the vicinity has been found who does not desire to attend. Scores of families in this city have announced their intention of going there and going early, with provisions for the day. Indications are that the park will be dotted over with family parties and groups of friends, enjoying an old-fashioned picnic.

Wellsville, Chester and East Liverpool school children will be there in force, as is shown by the thousands of tickets and badges that have been issued. None of the schools in these issued. Enough of the older folks to take care of the children will also be there, of course, to say nothing of older folks, who are still young at heart, even though their hair may be gray, who want to see the people and the fun.

Pretty much all of East Liverpool, Wellsville and Chester are to be there. The people down the New Cumberland branch are coming up many thousand strong. At the Hancock county picnic on Saturday the most common remark heard in the crowd was: "I will be back Tuesday. I could not afford to miss the News Review picnic. That will be one of the finest outing of the year."

Smith's Ferry people will be here in force. The demands for tickets and badges has been phenomenal in that village. Hookstown and the adjacent districts of Beaver county will turn out.

The sports, the baby shows, the balloon ascension and the fireworks will all come off as scheduled, and are sure to be interesting.

The rush to the park will be tremendous.

Everybody is urged to be on hand early. The exercises begin at 9 a. m. with a balloon ascension. Scan the program, prepare your picnic basket and get read for an early car.

The various attractions, including the free lemonade, free peanuts and the athletic contests, have been described in detail in these columns. They will be enjoyable, and nobody who is able to join the holiday throng should miss them.

A concert by the Rocereto orchestra at the park all the forenoon and one by Haines' band in the afternoon.

Haines' band will play for the picnic all day. In the forenoon it will play in Wellsville, the East End and in the city proper, marshaling the crowds together and furnishing entertainment while they are waiting for the cars. The program, subject to slight changes, is as follows:

Only Three Arrests Made Since Saturday Evening—The Usual Cause.

There were only three arrests made by the police during Saturday night and Sunday. The trio would have had a hearing this morning, but owing to the absence of Mayor Weaver, who was unexpectedly called to Canton the victims will be compelled to await his return.

Levi Burrows had a "peach" of a jag on when arrested by Officer Morris. After drinking about all an ordinary man can stand up with decided to top the lark with a couple of cans of peaches. He went into the Arcade restaurant and the first thing he saw was peach cans galore. While he thought eyes were turned away from him he quietly confiscated two cans and was about to depart when hailed by the proprietor, who had him arrested.

William Boyd, of Georgetown, was drunk and could not escape the eagle eyes of Officer Bryan. Skinner Cunningham had several aboard when Officer McDermott grabbed him.

SENSATIONAL SUIT COMES FROM SALEM

A Prominent Business Man Sued by His Wife For Divorce.

SAD TALE OF ABUSE TOLD

Lisbon, September 14.—(Special)—Anna M. Hilles through her attorneys, Carey & Mullins and L. P. Metzger, of Salem, has filed suit for divorce from L. E. Hilles, asking also custody of their daughter, Lucile, aged 12, and reasonable alimony. The higher courts not being in session at present, a decree has been secured in probate court temporarily restraining the defendant from disposing of extensive holdings of real estate and other interests.

The petition says they were married in Salem, June 5, 1890, and that they have one daughter. As her first cause for action the plaintiff charges her husband with extreme cruelty, alleging that on divers occasions, as long ago as 1895, he has subjected her to physical abuse and has sworn at her and called her indecent names. In 1895, when they were living in Manila, P. I., she says he struck her in the face and choked her. In 1896 and 1897, while living at Saigon, and in Singapore, India, he is alleged to have struck her at different times, badly injuring and discoloring her face. During their more recent residence in Baltimore, Md., the husband's treatment is alleged to have been even

A new phase has developed in the gas situation. A number of the city's most prominent business men who have been fighting the proposition of the gas company since the first notification was served on the people, are now convinced that they have been treading on very uncertain ground and they have decided to change in their attitude toward the gas corporation.

Among the men referred to are several manufacturers, all of whom are today advocating a discontinuance of the action started against the company. They feel that the threat of the gas company is not a bluff and after weighing the matter fully have determined that by all means nothing should be done that would induce the company to discontinue business in this city. They figure that it would mean almost a panic among the manufacturers and are strongly against a continuance of the fight.

A meeting of the pottery manufacturers' association will be held tomorrow afternoon at which time the matter will be taken up from every standpoint. It is likely that the association will recommend to council a complete change in its mode of action. Relative to the situation a prominent manufacturer made the following statement this morning:

"I tell you the gas company is not bluffing. I know that the men who were here representing the company last week meant it when they said the company would shut off all gas flowing to this city if the new rate is not acceded to. If the gas is shut off the potteries will be closed down for at least four months and then they will not be in working order that they are today. The kilns of the majority of the potteries are so constructed that if coal were to be used again new bottoms would have to be built in all of them.

"To the manufacturers it would be a terrible blow to have the gas cut off. The gas company makes the statement that it will not fight the city if in injunction proceedings. It has determined to let the city do as it likes. If the injunction is applied for and granted no fight will be made. The officials say they will convert the gas that is being used in East Liverpool to Pittsburg and they meant every

Rev. George Fowler Has Accepted a Call to a British Island City Church.

Lisbon, September 14.—(Special)—At the morning service in the Christian church yesterday, Rev. George Fowler, who has been pastor for about five years, announced that he had accepted a call to a church in Southport, England. About 18 months ago he refused to accept a call to Liverpool, England, but for some time he has been in correspondence with the Southport church and last week received a cablegram announcing that a unanimous call had been extended to him.

Southport is a noted English health resort on the Irish sea, about 18 miles north of Liverpool. Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Fowler expect to sail from New York about October 15. It will be their first visit to England.

During his pastorate here, the longest pastorate the church has had in 30 years, the membership has increased about 150. Mr. Fowler came here from Canada, where he was born.

EXPECTS TO GET THE CHILD BACK

J. B. Ecker Will Enter Legal Proceedings to Recover His Niece.

SUIT TO BEGIN AT ONCE

J. B. Ecker has returned from a week's investigating tour relative to the kidnapping of his little 12-year-old niece, Myrtle Hewitt, at Canton, and her subsequent confinement in a convent at Cleveland. While away Mr Ecker had a rather romantic journey, but it was fruitful and the restoration of the child seems assured.

As was narrated in the News Review, the child was allowed to go to Canton on a visit. She was to have been home by the opening day of school last week, but she failed to arrive, owing to the action of relatives in Canton, who, it is alleged, kidnapped her and spirited her away to the Cleveland hospital.

Upon his arrival at Canton Mr. Ecker learned that two parties, relatives of his by marriage, had taken the child. They are alleged to be Mrs. Johannes Miller and Mrs. Ollie Herman. Charges have been preferred against the two women and they are to be taken before the court of Stark county to answer to the serious charge of kidnapping. The prosecuting attorney of that county has taken a deep interest in the case and will prosecute the women to the full extent of the law.

Mr. Ecker states that when he made application to the convent for the little girl that the mother superior turned him away, stating that he could not have the child at the present time under any consideration, but that after following a long line of red tape he could secure her by furnishing $1,000 as a surety bond. He referred this to the prosecutor at Canton, and the latter advised him to leave the case in his hands and he would get the child.

The prosecutor advised Mr. Ecker to see the father of the girl and he went to Johnstown, Pa., the home of the father on Friday. The father was very much worked up over the affair and stated he would do everything possible to get the child back. He was to have arrived in the city this morning, but failed to appear. Mr. Ecker expects him this afternoon and upon his arrival they will depart for Canton and prepare for the legal proceedings.

BOLD ATTEMPTS MADE TO ROB TWO DWELLINGS UPON SUNDAY EVENING

Two Men Went Through Every Room in Grocer Schmidt's House and One Attacked the Quest Residence.

Two bold attempts at burglary were made in the city last night between the hours of 10 and 11. Two men forced an entrance into the home of Grocer George P. Schmidt, Seventh street, and one man succeeded in getting into the house of Edward Quest, Center alley.

The men at the Schmidt home daringly entered the yard while people in the vicinity were watching them. The neighbors, however, did not think them to be burglars, and did not raise an alarm. Going to the rear of the home they raised boards from an opening leading to the cellar and had easy access to the upper portion of the house. The kitchen door had been left open by Mr. Schmidt and they entered through this door, and subsequently went through every room in the house.

Mr. Schmidt and wife sleep in an upstairs room and the two men entered their room a short time after they had retired. They discovered a pair of trousers hanging on a chair near the head of Mr. Schmidt's bed and took them down stairs. There they made an examination of the pockets. Discovering that they were empty, the trousers were thrown on the floor and the burglars commenced another search for money. It is thought while they were in the parlor of the house the arrival of Mr. Schmidt's boy, who had been out spending the evening, frightened them. The boy says he heard them making their escape. They are described as being tall men, who wore black suits and slouch hats.

The Quest home was entered from the front door. Mrs. Quest was up stairs and hearing a noise made, gave the alarm. Neighbors rushed to the house, but before their arrival the burglar had left. He was seen to go through several yards in getting away.

There is quite a mystery in connection with the attempts at burglary at this home. It will be remembered that a man tried to get in the same house one night last week and that Mrs. Quest with her baby in her arms jumped from a second story window upon hearing him at the front door. Who the man is, is not known. And why he should persist in trying to rob this house is also a mystery. The police will keep a strict watch around it in the future.

Sofia, Bulgaria, September 14.—(Special.)—A large body of Turkish troops is reported to be nearing the Bulgarian frontier. The report says the soldiers are plundering the country as they advance.

The situation is most threatening and may cause a general mobilization of the Bulgarian forces to meet the advance.

Lisbon, September 14.—(Special)—Daniel A. Forbes, of Wellsville, is plaintiff in suit filed here this afternoon against the United Power company, asking $500 damages for injuries to a team of horses and damage to a wagon.

HARD TO FIND ENOUCH TEACHERS

Center Township Finds Few Applicants for Schools Paying Only $35 a Month.

Lisbon, September 14.—(Special.)—The Center township board of education is gradually securing teachers to supply the schools of the township, there having been no applicants for several places, on account of the salary, $35 a month. The following have been engaged:

District No. 14, Mrs. Anna Edwards, Lisbon; No. 11-15, Miss Virginia Shriver, Minerva; No. 9-11, Miss Leora Lee, Lisbon; No. 5, Miss Edith M. Moore, East Liverpool; No. 10, Miss Mary Williams, Lisbon.

Lisbon, September 14.—(Special)—William S. N. Bye, who recently went to Thornburg, Ia., on account of the serious illness of his wife, who has been visiting there, writes home that Mrs. Bye is growing steadily worse. She has consumption.

Mr. Davidson Goes to Canton to Take Steps to Prevent the Appointment of Wyman as Chief.

As a last resort City Solicitor George E. Davidson decided late Saturday evening to apply to Judge Ambler at Canton for an injunction restraining the mayor from appointing John Wyman, permanent chief of police. For that purpose the solicitor left for Canton this morning. He was accompanied by Mayor Weaver, Attorney J. H. Brookes, D. M. Ogilvie and N. A. Frederick.

When the board of public safety ignored the notice served upon it by the solicitor, demanding that Mr. Wyman should not be allowed to take the examination for eligibility to appointment to the chief of policeship, the solicitor was convinced that his power over the board amounted to naught. He realized that if he could influence the members of that body to act as his construction of the code dictates, he would be compelled to carry the case to a court and after reviewing every feature of the momentous question, decided to carry the case before Judge Ambler.

In carrying out this determination, it was compulsory that the solicitor notify the mayor of his intended action and late last evening the notice was served. Though it was not learned positively this morning the exact nature of the injunction proceedings, Mr. Dawson, of the safety board, states that it can be but for two things—to restrain the mayor from appointing Mr. Wyman or to restrain the board from certifying Mr. Wyman's name for appointment. Mr. Dawson rather thought it was to restrain the mayor, no notice having been served on the board.

Upon learning that the case was to come up at Canton today, Mayor Weaver retained Attorney Brookes to represent his side of the question and requested Mr. Ogilvie to accompany them. Mr. Frederick, it is said, went along simply to see the fun.

A SCORE OF RIOTERS ARRESTED AT BEIRUT

The Seat of Trouble Was Then Quiet. Admiral Cotton Has Satisfactory Visit.

Washington September 14.—(Special.)—Admiral Cotton has cabled the state department that he has exchanged satisfactory visits with the governor general of Beirut.

Last night 28 rioters were arrested, after which the city became quiet. Confidence has been restored and it is thought that an effectual stop has been made to rioting.

News and Notes About The Potteries

ANOTHER CONFERENCE.

Another conference is to be held by committees representing the National Brotherhood of Operative Potters and the United States Potters' association in an effort to adjust the wage scale. This fact was announced at the conclusion of the meeting of the executive board of the Brotherhood, held Saturday afternoon and evening. The date for the conference has not been fixed, but it is likely that it will be held before the end of the week.

President Duffy, of the Brotherhood, notified the manufacturers this morning that the executive board had decided to accede to the request for another conference. The time and place of the conference will probably be determined by the manufacturers. Their committee is yet to be named.

The failure of the committee from the Western Manufacturers' association to reach an agreement with the committee from the Brotherhood did not mean an end of the effort to adjust the differences. Now a committee will be named from the United States association to carry on the negotiations.

Four additional members, all from the east, will be added to the Brotherhood committee for the coming conference and the manufacturers' committee will also be increased a like number. First Vice President Hutchins will be one of the additional conferees and he will remain in this city until the conference is held. The others have not been announced by President Duffy.

At the meeting of the executive board the resignation of National Treasurer Aaron Coleman was presented. Mr. Coleman was elected treasurer at the national convention held at Wheeling last May and had made a painstaking and efficient official. His resignation came as a genuine surprise. Mr. Coleman had been selected by the board of directors of the co-operative store to manage the establishment and this reason was given for his resignation. The board considerd it sufficient and the resignation was accepted. The vacancy was filled by the selection of John A. Wood, national treasurer last year. Mr. Wood, during his previous term of office, performed his duties to the satisfaction of all and is in every way qualified to fill out Mr. Coleman's term.

Joseph G. Lee, of the K., T. & K., is president of the United States Potters' association and H. A. Keffer, of the Sevres China company, is secretary. Mr. Lee stated this afternoon that there was nothing concerning the conference to give to the public at this time. Their selection of a committee has not yet been made.

ZANESVILLE ART WARE.

L. A. Miller, the Zanesville art potter, is putting out a new French ware that is about the finest thing ever attempted in the art ware line in this country. The decoration has a silvery appearance into which is blended many color effects. Different designs are also blended with the silver, making something entirely new in the art ware line. A buyer from Tiffany & Co., of New York, was in Zanesville last week and bought heavily of these goods, which are already making quite a hit.

The Arc En Ciel Pottery company, of Zanesville, are also putting out a new ware that has a silvery effect, but at the same time is very different in decoration from the Weller ware. The ware has a silvery appearance through which appear distinct designs such as gold fish, etc., while the Weller ware contains no distinct designs, but the decorations are more on the scroll and oriental design order.

He will now have charge of the two local plants and the one at Tiltonville. At present he is living in Tiltonville, but it is probable that he will move to Wheeling in the near future.

FIRE CLAY FOUND.

The Monroe Brick company, of Woodsfield, O., which recently commenced operations at that place, have discovered on their property a vein of fire clay which experts pronounce very fine. The vein is fully seven feet thick and the company will manufacture it at an early day. The discovery is considered very valuable, as similar clay has not been found in Ohio before.

SALINEVILLE LOCAL.

The pottery workers at Salineville have organized a local order of the N. B. of O. P., this organization starting out with about 50 members. The local was placed in working order by President T. J. Duffy. Heretofore the Brotherhood had no organization at Salineville.

THE PHARISEE IN RELIGION

Subject of an Able Sermon by Rev. J. G. Reinartz, of the Lutheran Church.

MISTAKES OF CHRISTIANS

How They Fall Short In Duty Forcibly Pointed Out—The True Witnesses of God—The Only Way to Progress in Holiness.

Rev. J. G. Reinartz, at the Lutheran church, last evening, preached from Luke 17:10, "Two men went up into the temple to pray." He said in part:

"Two serious mistakes are made with regard to God's temple, and both mark certain extremes from which it is well if man is delivered.

"In their day perhaps no people were more devoted to the service in God's house than the Scribes and Pharisees. Their history shows to what degredation man can sink, and opens our eyes to the corruption that may exist in places of holiness. Many of these priests were reared amid surroundings of the temple, but their religion was one lost in the letter of the word and was severed from practical life about as far as it is possible to imagine. The service in the temple had become a sort of business for the display of the various stages of selfrighteousness. The other extreme arises from a total disregard of the temple which frequently results from a keen intelligent mind that beholds the inconsistencies of men and takes offense thereat, as well as from ignorance and stupidity that loves its own way and delights in sin.

"No man ever saw the follies and inconsistencies of men so much as Jesus. No one ever exposed the hypocracy of the Pharisee's religion as He did. Humanely speaking, He had many and weighty reasons for thinking lightly of God's temple in Jerusalem, but He did not. He loved it for what it was before God, and in spite of what sinful men had made it.

"How ought man to worship? Where there is no prayer, there is no worship. Religion is the communion of the soul with God and this is ordinarily maintained by prayer. In days of old the temple of Jehovah was the place for prayer and both these men, whatever their excellencies or defects, were intent on this. They entered the temple and prayed. It is a sad thing when this fact was overlooked, but the danger for doing so is very great. The temple itself may have adornments or attractions of a character to divert the soul rather than help it to piety. The music may lift into prominence the singers, or the sermon the one who preaches, rather than Him of whom he ought to speak—Christ. The uppermost desire must be to hold communion with God. Where this is wanting all efforts at being religious are a farce.

"No worship, no sincereity. But while prayer has its formal part, that has to do with one's attitude, or the outward expression, it also has an inner substance. A prayer may be said on the corner of the street or it may be so conceived as to bring forth no small amount of selfrighteousness, or it may make very inoidious comparisons. It may be lost in words for want of something to say. Men have preached sermons in prayers, and have used them for lashing evil doers, or flattering the vanity of others and commending their actions. It is possible through a worldly spirit to lose all sacredness of prayer. The proper source of communion with God lies in the holiness of the Almighty.

"No sincerity, no blessing. We are not informed about the particular sin which this publican had done who in a general way acknowledges himself a sinner, nor is it necessary to demand a special emphasis. Under the culturing care of heaven man's onward progression in holiness is marked from baptism onward to death. The insect is not immediately ready to become a chrysalis and when a man is completely fullfledged in holiness, we could not seriously think of any step beyond this than the grave. There is an order and system in the Bible and our experience, which finds an analogy in it. We are Christians but never quite as perfect as the best ones of the Bible. We are good, but never quite as good as our loftiest idea of goodness. We are holy but not as holy as Christ. The Bible nourishes

That Is the Main Cause For Her Disagreement With the Smith Family.

A fight of long duration between two families in Jethro has at last reached the mayor's court. The parties implicated are Mike Smith, wife and son and Mrs. Shaffer. The latter charges the trio with throwing stones at her and her children, and many other things. Mrs. Shaffer stated this morning at the city hall that some very funny evidence would be produced at the hearing which will likely be tomorrow evening. She said that the trouble originated over eight small black cats.

Mrs. Shaffer never did like cats and it seems to be a hobby of the Smith family to raise them. They have eight and when the little things roamed over into the yard of Mrs. Shaffer a kick was immediately registered.

AN OHIO MAN THE DEFENDANT

Two Suits Against R. C. Penfield Pending in New Jersey U. S. Court.

THE CHARCES ARE GRAVE

From a Staff Correspondent.

Trenton, N. J., September 14.—(Special)—One of the principal cases to be tried at the September term of the United States court will be that of Raymond C. Penfield, an Ohio citizen, against whom two suits are pending, charging him with juggling the paper of the Great Eastern Clay Manufacturing company and the National Clay Manufacturing company, two corporations operating under charters granted by New Jersey.

The financial affairs of the two companies are in such shape that a petition was filed in the United States District court this week, asking for the appointment of a receiver to manage their affairs. In compliance with the petition, Judge Kirkpatrick has appointed the Continental Trust company of New York, ancilliary receiver.

The complainant in each suit is the Standard Vetrified Conduit company of New York city. In the suit involving the National Clay Manufacturing company it is claimed that there is owing the company a note for $4,000 of the date of August 31, 1903, on which demand has been made for payment.

Penfield is charged in the bill of complaint of being the owner of all the capital stock of the American Clay Working Machine company of Ohio, and further, that he controls more than half of the million dollar capitalization of the National Clay Manufacturing company. It is claimed in the bill that Penfield has gained control of the latter company's affairs and has caused to be issued more than $250,000 of stock which he has used for his own benefit in other business ventures.

The complainants assert that in spite of the recent stock issued being protected by the valuable clay property of the National company in Perth Amboy, and which acts as security to a certain specified dividend, there is a likelihood of the assets of the company being sold to satisfy the claims of the stockholders. The bill charges that this stock is in the hands of innocent third parties and is about ready to be presented for payment for the dividends guaranteed by the National company's Perth Amboy holdings.

Similar charges are made against Penfield in the suit involving the Great Eastern Clay company, with the exception that a note which also matured August 31 last, is for $3,500 and that he is charged with "juggling" $400,000 worth of notes in the name of the concern and for his own use. The Great Eastern Clay company, which is likewise capitalized at $1,000,000, is declared to be in the control of Penfield. It owns with the National company rich properties at Perth Amboy.

Considerable interest is attached to the outcome of the suit, especially among the manufacturing potters and brickmakers of this city, as many of them purchase their clay in the raw state from the two clay companies. In fact, the two companies furnish a large part of the clay used in the manufacture of crockery and terra-cotta and pending the outcome of the suits their plants have been shut down.

The Young Men's Christian Association has commenced the educational campaign among the potters with apparently good results. Through arrangements with Vice President Hutchins, F. P. Lamphere, educational director of the association, has made arrangements to have the work of the association brought before the locals comprising the local representation of the National Brotherhood of Operative Potters. Thursday night Mr. Lamphere addressed the kilnmen and the following other dates have been arragned: September 15, sanitary workers; September 16, turners, throwers and handlers; September 18, packers; September 21, dippers; September 22, jiggermen, and September 23, saggermakers.

Thursday during the noon hour Mr. Lamphere conducted an educational meeting for the men of the Willetts pottery. About 100 employes were present. They were addressed by Mr. Lamphere and D. B. Marks, membership secretary, and Messrs. Stephen Hutchinson, and Hill, of the shop committee. Yesterday a similar meeting was held at the plant of the Trenton Lamp company. Meetings were held early in the week at the Trenton Fire Clay works, the Muddock pottery, the Empire pottery and the Ideal pottery.

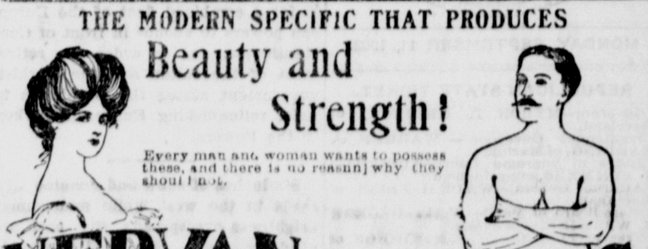
THE MODERN SPECIFIC THAT PRODUCES



Beauty and Strength!

Every man and woman wants to possess these, and there is no reason why they should not.

NERVAN TABLETS

The great nerve tonic and blood remedy, produce plumpness, rounds out hollowness, bring the bloom of youth to the cheeks, and all who take them enjoy good health and strength. Nervan Tablets act on the nerves and blood and contain all the elements of life. Positively

CURES KIDNEY AND BLADDER TROUBLES,

Rheumatism, All Diseases of the Blood, Backache, Nervous Dyspepsia, Clear the Complexion and Aid Digestion.

Give you a good appetite, renew life cells in young and old. Permanently restore youthful vigor and vitality. They tone up the whole system and make you feel like a new person. No remedy in the world to equal them. Take a few Nervan Tablets and note the wonderful effect.

ALCOHOL IN ALL LIQUID KIDNEY AND RHEUMATIC REMEDIES CONDEMNS THEM.

An ignorantly compounded remedy, containing alcohol, as nearly all kidney remedies do, will stimulate them so violently that an inflammation will be set up and instead of being merely lazy the kidneys will become diseased. Alcohol congests the kidneys with blood and retards their activity.

There is no Alcohol in Nervan Tablets to interfere with the removal of all harmful sediment from the body. The Tablets soothe and heal the kidneys when they are irritated and inflamed. They cure the kidney diseases that make you dizzy, restless, sleepless and irritable; that make you pass water often during the day and night; that cause rheumatism, catarrh of the bladder, pain in the back, joints and muscles; that make your head ache and indigestion, stomach and liver trouble, and a sallow, yellow complexion.

No matter how many other remedies you may have tried and found useless, remember the great modern remedy, Nervan Tablets.

The gas question has reached a stage where it requires to be handled with delicacy and discretion. The manufacturers have been convinced by the representatives of the gas trust that their supply will be shut off at the expiration of existing contracts if the city proceeds to get the injunction asked. That would be a serious blow to the city—far more serious than the increase which the gas trust is demanding. The popular impression—which the News Review has shared—has been that the gas combine would surrender to the terms of the city before it would abandon the large business it has been doing here. The statement coming from the manufacturers that the gas people will not fight the injunction but will withdraw from the field if enjoined puts a different phase upon the matter. Council should thoroughly investigate all sides of the question before taking radical action. If the city cannot have gas after it gets the injunction it will win a barren and costly victory. The gas company evidently has a wholesome respect for the Ohio law, but even the law cannot compel it to do business unless it wants to. The question confronting council is whether the combine is bluffing; if it is not, the city should go slowly. We believe in standing up for the people's interests; but it is not to anybody's interest to cut off the gas supply.

Some of the trusts will soon cease to trouble our Democratic friends, or anybody else, for that matter. It appears that forty-five of the corporations made in New Jersey have been placed in the hands of receivers since the first of the year, but their liabilities are fourteen times as great as their assets, and that the stockholders in a majority of them are not likely to get anything worth mentioning out of their investment. There is nothing surprising in this revelation. The day has gone by when watered stock is in demand, and the bulk of the assets of these corporations which have failed appear to have been wind and water.

The city of Cleveland is having trouble similar to that experienced by East Liverpool in disposing of its bonds. On last Friday bids were opened for $600,000 worth of twenty-year 4 per cents. Bond buyers asked for only $120,000 worth of them. The premium bid was $15 for twenty thousand dollars' worth, and $50 each for two lots of fifty thousand. This does not prove that there is anything wrong with the money market. Rather, it is an indication that capital seeks and finds more profitable opportunities than investments that pay only 4 per cent.

The London Spectator suggests a new method, and an effective one, of dealing with the Turkish question. It is for a combined fleet of the European powers to anchor in front of Constantinople, and to order the retirement of the sultan and the Turkish government across the Bosphorus to Asia, relinquishing European Turkey to the Powers.

Six inches of snow and genuine blizzards in the west while midsummer brightness overspreads the east are conditions not calculated to trouble those who neglected to take Horace Greeley's advice.

The sultan's soldiers are such brave fighters it is a pity they are not fighting for the right rather than for the upholding of a government which no one respects and the whole world loathes.

AT THE THEATER

"An Indiana Romance," a new play from the pen of J. C. Nugent, will be the attraction at the Grand Tuesday evening. This highly successful pastoral comedy drama belongs to a class of dramatic literature that appeals strongly to the emotions, while not offending the intelligence of the conscious theater-goer. As a play, and considered in that light, it is a valuable addition to the contemporary drama, because it accurately presents a phase of real country life in a story in which is splendidly moulded the qualities of pathos and humor, as they should be presented on the stage.

One of the very best attractions of the season, Lizzie Evans in the comedy drama, "At Cozy Corners," is coming to the Grand on Thursday evening. Miss Evans is too well known to theatre-goers to require any of the extravagant praise that usually proceeds theatrical stars. She has built up a great reputation by her splendid talents. She is an energetic little actress, full of ginger and magnetism and her portrayal of "Claudia, a violinist," in "Cozy Corners" is considered the most fetching thing she has ever done.

No writer has given such clear, keen description of the English peasant life as Thomas Hardy does in his various novels, all of which have been published in 100,000 editions. His "Tess of the D'Urbervilles" was dramatized by Lorrimer Stoddard for Harrison Gray Fiske, whose production of it in New York received the greatest endorsements given to a drama in recent years.

Miss Carline Rohr is starring this season in "Tess of the D'Urbervilles." Her portrayal of the dairy maid is most effective, graceful and natural and has been called by some writers the ideal "Tess."

WELLSVILLE

Watch, Money and Eatables Were Secured—No Clue As to the Thieves' Identity.

Nevada street, near Eighteenth street, was the scene of a number of burglaries last night, two men having entered three different houses and succeeding in securing a watch, a pocketbook containing a small amount of money, and numerous pies, cakes and other eatables.

The house of Mr. Mackie, the home of Alexander Gerran, and one other house were entered by two men shortly after 12 o'clock. It is presumed that the burglars were amateurs in the business or probably tramps, judging from the manner in which they entered the houses. The Mackie house was entered by way of the outside cellar door which was not locked securely and was forced open. The Gerran home was entered by an outside door which was also unfastened. In the third house the men were unable to enter further than the cellar. Nothing was secured at the Mackie home, the men being frightened away by two young lady occupants of the house who had not yet retired. The valuables mentioned and all available eatables were taken at the Gerran home, while at the third house only canned fruit is missing.

The burglars left no clue to their identity, although local officers believe that the men are still in the city. They are now working on the case and arrests may follow.

BIDS RECEIVED

For the Paving of Lisbon Road By Board of Public Service.

A special meeting of the board of public service was held Saturday afternoon for the purpose of opening the new bids on the paving of Lisbon road, a contract which was bid on two weeks ago, and for which the bids were all rejected because of an irregularity. Bids were received from the following contractors: A. B. Clark, C. A. Freshwater, Rinehart Bros. and Mr. McLaughlin.

On motion of Bowers, the bids were ordered referred to City Civil Engineer Leith, with instructions to go over same and report the lowest bidder at the Tuesday morning session of the board.

From outside appearances and reading of the bids, it would seem that A. B. Clark is the lowest bidder, but this remains to be seen.

Mr. Bowers made a motion, after a report had been heard from Superintendent C. C. Ewing, of the water works, that the clerk of the board be instructed to purchase 300 bushels of coal for the water works pumping station for use in emergency purposes. The motion passed and the board adjourned.

SIGNS BOND AND TAKES ALL RISK

Will Reed Has Such Faith in Mi-o-na the Flesh-Forming Food, He Sells It Under Guarantee.

Not one time in 500 does Mi-o-na fail to cure dyspepsia. It is because of its remarkable power to cure this disease that Will Reed is able to sell it in the following unusual way.

With every 50c box he gives a signed guarantee bond to refund the price if the purchaser can honestly tell him that it has not given freedom from stomach troubles, increased flesh, and restored health. The risk is all Mr. Reed's as the following bond which he signs fully shows:

GUARANTEE BOND.

I hereby agree to refund the price paid for Mi-o-na, if the purchaser tells me that it has not increased flesh and given freedom from stomach troubles. WILL REED.

Mi-o-na is not a mere digestive that simply gives temporary relief.

While it helps the food to digest, it also has a positive strengthening action upon the digestive organs and puts the whole system in proper physical condition. It restores power to the nerves of the stomach and in this way gives that important organ the power to digest food. In this way natural flesh is regained and health restored.

Remember that you risk nothing in buying Mi-o-na. The bond protects you, so that if it fails to give the desired effect, Will Reed will return your money without question and without argument.

Small Blaze in a House.

A small fire broke out Saturday evening shortly after 5 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Martin Barth, Main and Seventeenth streets. A railroad man saw flames issuing from the garret window and at once went in search for the pony engine which is sometimes used for fire purposes in the yards. The engine, in charge of Engineer Humphrey, was soon brought to the scene. It was found that a pile of old clothes had caught fire, presumably from a spark from an engine. The fire was quickly extinguished and but little damage was done.

Date of Band Dance.

A meeting of the new band organization was held here a few evenings ago at the call of Mayor Fogo, who is the prime mover in the project, for the purpose of selecting a date for the benefit dance which was to have been held in the city hall a week or so ago, but which was postponed because enough tickets had not been sold to guarantee the success of the venture. It was decided at this meeting to hold the dance, rain or shine, on Thursday evening, September 24, and the members were urged to rush the sale of tickets.

Venerable William Burbick Fell Dead of Heart Disease Saturday.

Lisbon, September 14.—(Special)—William Burbick, who had spent nearly all of the 81 years of his life in Center township, died suddenly Saturday afternoon of heart trouble, at the home of his daughter, Mrs. G. E. Randalls, in Hanover township. Up to the time when he fell dead Mr. Burbick was apparent in his usual health. He was born February 20, 1822, in Center township, was a lifeling Democrat and never voted but once outside of Center township.

In his youth with his father he was engaged in carrying on a trading business on the Ohio and Mississippi rivers. On Christmas, 1852, he married Miss Nancy Fife, and they celebrated their golden wedding last year at the home of their daughter, Mrs. J. O. Ewing, in Wayne township. Mrs. Burbick survives her husband. Until two years ago, when they went to make their home with their children, they lived on their farm in Center township, two miles south-west of Lisbon. Mr. Burbick joined the Lisbon Presbyterian church April 14, 1849, was ordained an elder September 25 in 1870, and at the time of his death was the oldest member of the session.

SOUTH SIDE

Took Advantage of the Hancock County Picnic to Get Acquainted With the People.

The Hancock county picnic on the occasion of its last celebration was notable for one thing, at least. There were more politicians and prospective candidates present than ever was gathered together at one place before. They came to the park early and throughout the entire day the "glad hand" did over time. Hancock county, as West Virginia, can now be counted upon to take its place in the Republican list, and for that reason the party primaries have a much greater significance than in any previous year.

For every office in the gift of the party there are a number of candidates, and when the primary election is held in Hancock county next spring there will be the scramble for place the like of which has never before been known. The two candidates for congressional honors were at Rock Springs Saturday, and from that down to the smallest and most insignificant position in the county, the aspirants were putting in their best licks.

Among those who are said to have made the best impression was J. S. D. Mercer, of Chester, who is a candidate for county assessor. Mr. Mercer has been mayor of Chester for some time and has filled the office with credit to himself. He has been so successful with the administration that the town is pointed to as a model.

So much interest was manifested in the work of the politicians at the county picnic that some of the leaders called a caucus, which was held in New Cumberland yesterday. It is not known what the candidates and their friends decided upon, but it is understood the slate for the coming primary was partially completed.

CAME NEAR DROWNING

John Mackey, a Jethro Lad, Had a Narrow Escape Saturday Evening.

John Mackey, a 13-year-old boy residing with his parents on Florence street, West End, came near losing his life by drowning in the river opposite Jethro Saturday evening. The lad, with a number of companions, was in bathing, and Mackey wandered too far from shore. It is thought he was seized with cramps and could not help himself.

His terrible plight was discovered by William Portman, an aged resident of Jethro, and seizing an oar he jumped into a skiff and succeeded in rescuing the boy just as he was disappearing beneath the water for the last time. The lad was taken to his home in the patrol.

Seasongood & Mayer Take Up the $22,000 Issue After Months of Delay.

After months of delay caused by prospective buyers making careful inquiry into the regularity of the issue, the $22,000 of Chester bonds were delivered to Seasongood & Mayer, of Cincinnati, and the officials of the town now have the money.

Bond Commissioners O. O. Allison and George D. Ingram, with Recorder J. H. Maxwell and Mayor Mercer, met with the representative of the company at the First National bank of Chester at 1:30 this afternoon and the bonds were sealed, signed and delivered within a few minutes. The transaction will relieve an embarrassed condition under which the town has labored for several months, and the citizens and authorities alike are gratified.

Young Gamblers Arrested.

Harry Fodrey, Walter Nookes and Harry Greenley were arrested by Sergeant Allison yesterday. The lads were engaged in a quiet game of penny ante and were surprised at the interference of the officer. They were taken before Mayor Mercer, who imposed a fine of $1 and costs. They promised to pay and were released. Numerous complaints have been made to the authorities regarding violations of the law on the part of boys from East Liverpool, who congregate at the Pusey orchard each Sunday and the nuisance will be abated at any cost.

Pocket Picking Charged.

Officer Baker arrested Thomas Dailey, of Steubenville, Saturday evening on a charge of pocket picking. One of the picnickers, becoming drunk, lay down for a sleep, and his wife alleges she caught Dailey in the act of rifling her husband's pockets. The man was taken to jail and remained over night. It was found Dailey had not succeeded in securing any booty, and as the woman did not appear to prosecute, he was released.

DRAVOSBURG LOST THE SECOND GAME

HE GOT OUT OF THE BOX

Pitcher Spittal, who was sent to the slab for the Dravosburg team in Saturday's game at the West End park did a balloon ascension in the sixth inning, just in time to save the bacon of one Morg Winters, who was getting bumped with startling regularity.

While the visiting twirler was not setting up as a rival of Prof. Kincaid, who is to make two balloon ascensions at the News Review's big picnic tomorrow, he gave a performance that was very satisfactory to the local fans. The batting streak which inflated his balloon for the trip, coming as it did with two hands down, was the prettiest and lengthiest swatfest seen on the local grounds this season. While it was going on Morg was sitting on the home players' bench shaking hands with himself. In that round, after Woods had dropped Vasbinder's easy sky scraper, every man on the team scored a run and every man, except Vasbinder, found Spittal for a safety.

After the eighth hit and ninth run Spittal concluded that the locals would "make a hundred" if he remained in the box and he threw up the sponge. Welsh, who pitched Friday's game, answered the distress signal and stopped the fusilade by retiring the first man that faced him.

For the first five innings the contest was a pretty one, the score being 2 to 1 in favor of the locals. Spittal had been a puzzle and the locals had found him safely but three times. The two runs were scored on one of the most peculiar plays ever seen on the local diamond, heady base running making the play possible. Only one hit figured in these scores. The visitors had three hits in the second, productive of but one run.

Besides swatting the leather hard the locals put up on errorless game in the field, the only sign of an error coming in the third when Osborne laid down a bunt toward first. Winters started to field the ball, but concluded to let Webb have it. This mixup gave Osborne a chance to reach the bag, and though Webb failed to pick up the ball, he cannot be charged with an error.

Those two in the first, curiously brought about, looked as big as a dozen for awhile. After the visitors had failed Gibson walked and Wallace beat out a slow one. Brown was presented with a pass, filling all the corners. While Spittal was pitching to Heck Weisser tried to wing Brown at first and whipped the ball there before Brown, who had been taking big leads, could get back. Brown darted to second and the procession moved. Wallace forced off his perch at bag No. 2 made for third and Gibby made room for him by starting home. Woods threw to Rowe to nail Brown as Gibby left third and Rowe held the ball a moment too long before trying to nail Gibby. As the leather reached Weisser Gibby took the dirt and by a magnificent slide was safe. Weisser threw to second and Wallace started home, scoring when Weisser failed to hold the return to catch him.

The visitors made one in the second. Porte singled and Welsh hit safely to right. Boyle walked, filling the bases and after Spittal had failed to connect, Hill hit one to center. Porte scored, but Vasbinder by a magnificent throw to the plate nailed Welsh.

Three little hits when the sixth round was reached looked like mighty slim picking alongside the cluster of six the visitors had gathered from Morg's shoots and slants. But here Spittal got his bumps. With two down Heck was given a base on balls and Woods failed to retire the side by dropping Vasbinder's high fly. A passed ball helped both runners up a peg and Vasbinder scored when Webb cracked out a safety. Webb stole second and Jarvis dropped a fly in safe territory back of short, Heck counting. Emmerling poked one into safe territory, scoring Webb, and Winters cleared the sacks with a three-ply lick. Gibby scored Morg with a clean lick and Wallace helped Gibby to third with a single, both scoring when Brown singled. Heck made the eighth hit of the inning, scoring Brown with the ninth run. Spittal saw he could not stop the performance and called Welsh to the slab.

In the seventh the visitors made four. Spittal walked and was helped along on Hill's safety. Rowe's single scored Spittal and Weisser cleared the bases with a triple, scoring on a long fly. The consecutive passes and Hill's single gave them another in the eighth and in the ninth Weisser made his second triple, scoring on an out. The score:

The game at Central park, Wellsville, Saturday, between the East Liverpool Athletics and the Wellsville Athletics, though short, was one of the most interesting that has been played in the sister city this season. Five innings only were played and it resulted in the score of 2 to 0 in favor of the Crockery City lads.

Owing to a misunderstanding a very small crowd witnessed the contest. The management of the Wellsville team had not advertised the game at all, and when the time came for playing only half of his men were on the ground. Notwithstanding these drawbacks the two teams played with spirit and did themselves credit. Tommie Davis pitched for the locals and his playmates were reminded of years ago when he held down the rubber at all times. He seems to have more speed than ever and his curves are great. Wellsville fought him hard and made vicious attempts to hit him up for a few long ones, but it was not in them. He held his control to the right pitch and let them down with three measly hits. Ashbaugh, of New Cumberland, pitched for Wellsville and he, too, did good work. Only five hits were made off of him and they were nothing to speak of. The teams have been nagging at each other for some time now and it is expected that a series of games will be arranged for them before the end of the season. The score:

Batteries—Davis and Emmerling, Ashbaugh and Coleman.

Among the attractions of interest, especially to the young, at Rock Springs park Saturday, was the game of base ball played in the afternoon by a team of boys ranging in age from 12 to 15 years of New Cumberland, and the Legal Stars, of this city. After nine of the hardest innings experienced by boy teams in many months, the Stars won by a score of 8 to 5.

The New Cumberland team showed that it understood the game to perfection and it was not long after the contest was started until the local aggregation realized that to win the game meant a strenuous effort on the part of every player. Gibson, the well known twirler, of Wellsburg, was on the rubber for the West Virginians and he put them over in a style very mysterious. Smith, for the locals, however, were well represented in Smith. The score:

	R.	H.	E.
Legal Stars 8	12	3
New Cumberland 5	8	2

Batteries—Smith and Mounts; Gibson and Black.

The Genuine vs. the Counterfeits.

The genuine is always better than a counterfeit, but the truth of this statement is never more forcibly realized or more thoroughly appreciated than when you compare the genuine DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve with the many counterfeits and worthless substitutes that are on the market. W. S. Ledbetter, of Shreveport, La., says: "After using numerous other remedies without benefit, one box of DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve cured me." For blind, bleeding, itching and protruding piles no remedy is equal to DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve.

BOY BADLY HURT UPON THE STREETS

Knocked Down By a Horse And Got a Gash Upon His Forehead.

Carl Beebout, a small son of John Beebout, of College street, was run down by a horse on Washington street this morning and sustained severe injuries to his head.

A crowd of small boys were playing in the middle of the street. In some manner they became involved in a quarrel and were so intent upon the battle that they failed to notice the approach of the rig. Young Beebout ran directly toward the horse in an effort to get away and was knocked down. His forehead came in contact with the paving and a deep gash an inch in length was inflicted.

The lad was carried into Mrs. A. V. Thompson's store and was later taken to his home. The injuries, though painful, are not serious. The driver of the outfit was in no way to blame, as the horse was walking and the boys had no right in the street.

Go Prepared.

In preparing for your summer outing a little forethought may save you no end of trouble. Mr. John H. Mauly, a dry goods merchant, of Bellville, R. I., while packing an outfit for camping a few weeks on Narragansett Bay, put in a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy for emergency use. The second day in camp his little boy was taken with cramp colic. The first dose of this remedy gave relief and the second dose effected a cure. Think of the pain and suffering this boy would have had to endure without this remedy at hand to relieve him. Such cases often result fatally. For sale by Alvin H. Bulger.

CHRONIC SORES

Signs of Polluted Blood.

There is nothing so repulsive looking and disgusting as an old sore. You worry over it till the brain grows weary and work with it until the patience is exhausted, and the very sight of the old festering, sickly looking place makes you irritable, despondent and desperate.

A chronic sore is the very best evidence that your blood is in an unhealthy and impoverished condition, that your constitution is breaking down under the effects of some serious disorder. The taking of strong medicines, like mercury or potash, will sometimes so pollute and vitiate the blood and impair the general system that the merest scratch or bruise results in obstinate non-healing sores of the most offensive character.

Often an inherited taint breaks out in frightful eating sores upon the limbs or face in old age or middle life. Whenever a sore refuses to heal the blood is always at fault, and, while antiseptic washes, salves, soaps and powders can do much to keep down the inflammation and cleanse the sore, it will never heal permanently till the blood itself has been purified and the deadly germs and poisons destroyed, and with S. S. S. this can be accomplished—the polluted blood is purified and invigorated, and when rich, pure blood is again circulating freely throughout the body the flesh around the old sore begins to take on a natural color, the discharge of matter ceases and the place heals over.

SSS

S. S. S. is both a blood purifier and tonic that puts your blood in order and at the same time tones up the system and builds up the general health. If you have a chronic sore write us. No charge for medical advice.

THE PHARISEE IN RELICION

and cultivates the ideal life. It is the preacher's business to seize hold of this. There lies his power with the cultured hearer. In our beautiful service we make a common confession of sin.

"Why is our church service sometimes so neutral in character? We may not have the humility of the publican, whose worship eventuates in blessing, or we lack the audacity of the Pharisee who manifested his life in outward act and who stands a subject for correction. Let us with God's help worship like the publican. It is sad to be a Pharisee, yet better this than no worshipper at all, for our text knows of no third class. May Pharisaic worship cease and under God's blessing may there be one fold and one shepherd."

COMMUNION AT M. E. CHURCH

DR. MANCHESTER, PRESIDING ELDER, WAS THERE.

Dr. Pratt, at the Evening Service, Gave an Interesting And Able Sermon.

There was no preaching at the First M. E. church yesterday morning, the entire time being devoted to communion services. Rev. Dr. C. E. Manchester, presiding elder of the district, was present and he conducted the services in his usual acceptable manner. He was assisted by Rev. Dr. Pratt.

Prior to the service Dr. Pratt made a few remarks that were very entertaining to the church members in particular. He announced the pleasure derived from all of the meetings of the past week and extended a cordial invitation to every one in the congregation to attend all of the regular meetings this week. The present week is the last of the conference year and the minister said he thought the entire membership should be in attendance as much as possible. Relative to the organization that was formed a few weeks ago for the purpose of looking after the numberless girls of the city and community that are daily being led among the unrighteous paths the minister said that considerable good is already being done. He predicts that within the year the results of the organization will be wonderful.

"During the past two weeks," said he, there have been wonders worked among the classes for whom the organization was formed. The leaders in the movement have been hard after the young girls and their efforts positively have not been fruitless. There is not another city of the size in the state that so needs this kind of work. We have hundreds of unchaperoned girls working in local potteries who are daily brought into contact with vulgarism in its lowest degree and the wonder to me is that more of them do not fall astray."

In conclusion Dr. Pratt appealed to the congregation to help the cause by becoming a member of the organization and helping it get along by subscribing $1 per year for its maintenance. He said that $12 per week will be necessary to keep the movement going, that to include the expenses of the person ahead of it and numerous other little necessities.

At the evening's service Dr. Pratt's subject was "Hezekiah and His Poultice of Figs." He gave an intensely interesting account of how Hezekiah after many backslidings had at last succeeded to the throne and of the remarkable victory he gained, with the help of God, over Sennacherib, the crafty Assyrian warrior and king. Hezekiah was a reformer and sought by aggressive methods to overthrow the idols and superstitions of his people and lead them into the rightful worship of the living God. When he had been valiant and faithful for many years, he was not a little cast down when the heavy hand of affliction descended upon him, and when told by the prophet that he must die "turned his face toward the wall and prayed unto the Lord." His petition was heard and then the prophet came with the poultice of figs which he applied to the affliction with the statement that he would recover and live fifteen more years, the sun on the dial being set back fifteen degrees by divine agencies. The sickness and miraculous recovery of Hezekiah pictures the interest God takes in human affairs. There is no sense, no wisdom and no security in any human plan that leaves out God. There can be no safe reckoning when God is neglected and forgotten. Remorseless powers are ever at man's elbow and succor comes only through the grace and glory of God. Man must both work and pray, for one is ineffectual without the other.

Prayer will not cure the sick; a physician is always necessary, and between the skill of the doctor and the efficacy of prayer disease is rebuked. Man must co-operate with God in all things if success and salvation are attained.

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Don't Know it.

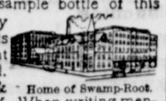
How To Find Out.

Fill a bottle or common glass with your water and let it stand twenty-four hours; a sediment or settling indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys; if it stains your linen it is evidence of kidney trouble; too frequent desire to pass it or pain in the back is also convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder are out of order.

What to Do.

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy fulfills every wish in curing rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in 50c. and $1. sizes.

You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful discovery and a book that tells more about it, both sent absolutely free by mail. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper.



Don't make any mistake, but remember the name Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghampton, N. Y., on every bottle.

STRENGTH OF YOUTH

The Young Man Particularly Well Fitted to Combat the Hosts of Evil.

Rev. C. G. Jordan last evening preached from Psalms 68:28, saying in part:

"Young men are peculiarly well fitted to fight the battles against the forces of sin. They have the vigor, enthusiasm, and the ambition to succeed. In fact, they know not their strength. William Pitt had attracted the attention of the civilized world by his eloquence when but 24 years of age. John Calvin did his great work before he was 30, and even Christ who had given a word that will never die was but 33 years old. Such examples of which history's pages are filled should give confidence to young men having worthy aspirations. But their strength is continually menaced by the forces of evil and their allies. Their strength may be misdirected because the church and churchmen often condone wrongs. An instance is that of the minister who recently contended that the Bible justified the awful crime of lynching."

The speaker called upon all to comply with God's command by stopping the desecration of the Sabbath and fighting the iniquities of politics and evil in every form.

PRESBYTERY MEETING

Resignation of Mr. Jordan and Call to Dr. Montgomery to Be Acted Upon.

The Steubenville Presbyterian presbytery meets at Smithfield this evening and tomorrow. Rev. P. W. Snyder, of Calcutta, retiring moderator, will preach the opening sermon. The resignation of Rev. C. G. Jordan as pastor in this city will be acted upon. Tomorrow evening Rev. W. B. Irwin, pastor of the Second Presbyterian church of Steubenville, will speak on home missions. Mr. Elder D. Moore, of this city, will deliver an address on the foreign missionary forward movement and Rev. Alexander Sharp, pastor of Potter chapel, Mingo Junction, will have an address on foreign missions in South Africa, where he was engaged for a number of years.

The commissioners chosen at the congregational meeting of the First church will be present to present the call to Rev. John Montgomery.

A Sermon on Education.

Rev. Dr. J. C. Taggart at the First U. P. church, preached on education, it being the day of prayer for the schools. He held that the Bible should be more generally taught to inculcate morality. The state, in undertaking to educate the people of whom it is the creature, shows itself to be a divine institution, and as such might well encourage Bible study in order to help to improve the people spiritually as well as to equip them for the struggle for existence.

A HEARING HELD IN POTTERY CASE

Injunction Proceedings Brought By E. J. Owens Argued Before Judge Robinson.

A hearing was begun Saturday before Judge Robinson, of Ravenna, in the injunction proceedings instituted by E. J. Owent against the East Liverpool Potteries company. Mr. Owens seeks to restrain the company from disposing of a part of its property, namely, the East End plant of the company, in which Mr. Owens was interested at the time of the consolidation.

The hearing of the case was continued from Saturday until today. A long distance telephone message to the News Review this afternoon stated that no decision had been handed down by Judge Robinson and that several days would elapse before it would be made known.

Dragged Under a Car.

Salineville, September 14.—(Special.)—Walter Goddard, aged 24, at the New Shaft mine Friday night, was hauling slate with a mule and car, when he tripped and fell on the tracks, the car running on him, and dragging him under it. He was unable to stop the mules, but managed to get out without having any bones broken. His cries soon attracted his fellow workmen, who hastily removed him to the outside of the mine. His back was badly sprained and it will lay him off work for a couple of months.

Girl Broke Her Wrist.

Lisbon, September 14.—(Special.)—The Furnace Sunday school picnic, held in Willitt's grove north of Lisbon Saturday afternoon, was attended by about 100. One accident occurred. more brutal. On July 15, last, he is said to have injured her arm so severely that the flesh was badly discolored and on August 10 is alleged to have struck her with his fists and otherwise treated her shamefully, injuring her mouth badly.

A second cause of action charges that by reason of drunkenness and dissipation, although fully able, he has failed properly to provide for his wife and child for several years and has grossly neglected them. The plaintiff says her husband owns a one-half interest in the business of Bagnall & Hilles, who are extensively engaged in electrical contracting with their principal office in Yokohoma, Japan, with branch offices in Singapore and New York. She further says he owns a lot in Salem, which is held in trust for him by Jacob D. Hilles; that he owns a one-half interest in lots 425 and 426 in Zadoc Street's fourth addition to Salem and that he owns lot 423 and part of lot 424 in the same addition. He is restrained from disposing of any of his property by a temporary injunction, pending a hearing of the case.

morrow, a game having been arranged for the occasion between the Rovers and the Brewery Athletic club. The members of both teams have been at practice for the past month, familiarizing themselves with the new plays and getting accustomed to the new rules. Several important changes have been made since last year, making the game cleaner, faster and less brutal.

It is the hope of the foot ball enthusiasts to interest those who like to witness athletic contests, as several teams will play here during the season. Thousands of people will witness the contest tomorrow and for this reason, if for no other, the players will put up the best article of sport possible. The result hoped for is that the spectators will patronize the games later in the season.

The Rovers and Brewery Athletic club are about evenly matched, so far as weight is concerned. The players of both elevens will average something near 140 pounds and the only advantage is in favor of the Rovers, they being for the most part older. Last year the Rovers had a very successful season, defeating some of the best teams in this section. The B. A. C. also won a number of games, defeating strong local clubs.

Manager Ashbaugh, of the Rovers, and Burgess, of the Brewery Athletic club, have agreed upon the officials for the game and well posted men have been selected. Alex Stevenson, who has been selected as assistant coach for the West Virginia university team, is to act as referee, and "Lefty" Baker, a well known local player, as umpire. One sub from each eleven will act as linesman and the same arrangement has been made for timekeepers. Owing to the extreme hot weather, the halves will be 15 minutes.

While the crowd will number into the thousands every effort will be made so that every spectator can have a full view of the field. The gridiron will be laid off east and west on the ball grounds, and those in the grand stand in the natural amphitheater can see every play.

To suit the crowds desiring to attend the Rock Springs theater tomorrow evening the display of fireworks to be put off at the park by the News Review, the performance will begin promptly at 8 o'clock. The pyrotechine display will be commenced at 9 o'clock and will be one of the main features of the big News Review picnic.

The meeting will be largely attended, as the society has a very good enrollment and is one of the strongest organizations of the church. Mrs. E. D. Moore will preside at the meeting. Miss Mazie Crawford, daughter of Mrs. Daniel Crawford, who has been doing wonderful work among the Indians of the far west, will be present and speak of this work. A social will conclude the meeting, and a general good time is anticipated. A number of the Presbyterian ladies will assist the president in the afternoon's entertainment.

MR. SHAWKE INDIGNANT

Hasty Action on the Part of an Official of the Union Is Charged.

J. R. Shawke, the well known horseshoer, is very indignant at the report that he has been conducting a non-union shop. He said this morning:

"The only notice I had that there was a man in my shop to which the union objected was when an officer of the union came in and accosted a man in my employ and asked him why he did not attend a Sunday meeting and pay $2.75 alleged to be due. The man replied that he did not attend to such business on Sunday. The walking delegate then seized the union card on the wall of my shop and tore it down, making threats of what he would do if I continued to employ such men.

"The only fair way would have been to make complaint to me. The man complained of was a union man and one of the charter members of the horseshoers' organization. I had no knowledge of him being in arrears in his dues, and I am sure he would have settled if given a chance.

"The statement that the teamsters endorsed the action of the horseshoers' official contains not a word of truth, as I have been assured by the chief officials of the teamsters."

In the forenoon 5,000 sacks of peanuts will be distributed among the children.

Free lemonade will be served all day.

Dinner baskets and boxes will be checked free.

Admission to the park and all special attractions free. The regular park attractions will be running at the usual prices.

If tomorrow is like today the greatest throng that has assembled in Rock Springs park the present season will gather there as the guests of the News Review. Everybody and his wife and his wife's relatives for miles around will be present.

Nobody in the vicinity has been found who does not desire to attend. Scores of families in this city have announced their intention of going there and going early, with provisions for the day. Indications are that the park will be dotted over with family parties and groups of friends, enjoying an old-fashioned picnic.

Wellsville, Chester and East Liverpool school children will be there in force, as is shown by the thousands of tickets and badges that have been issued. None of the schools in these issued. Enough of the older folks to take care of the children will also be there, of course, to say nothing of older folks, who are still young at heart, even though their hair may be gray, who want to see the people and the fun.

Pretty much all of East Liverpool, Wellsville and Chester are to be there. The people down the New Cumberland branch are coming up many thousand strong. At the Hancock county picnic on Saturday the most common remark heard in the crowd was: "I will be back Tuesday. I could not afford to miss the News Review picnic. That will be one of the finest outing of the year."

Smith's Ferry people will be here in force. The demands for tickets and badges has been phenomenal in that village. Hookstown and the adjacent districts of Beaver county will turn out.

The sports, the baby shows, the balloon ascension and the fireworks will all come off as scheduled, and are sure to be interesting.

The rush to the park will be tremendous.

Everybody is urged to be on hand early. The exercises begin at 9 a. m. with a balloon ascension. Scan the program, prepare your picnic basket and get read for an early car.

The various attractions, including the free lemonade, free peanuts and the athletic contests, have been described in detail in these columns. They will be enjoyable, and nobody who is able to join the holiday throng should miss them.

A concert by the Rocereto orchestra at the park all the forenoon and one by Haines' band in the afternoon.

Haines' band will play for the picnic all day. In the forenoon it will play in Wellsville, the East End and in the city proper, marshaling the crowds together and furnishing entertainment while they are waiting for the cars. The program, subject to slight changes, is as follows:

Only Three Arrests Made Since Saturday Evening—The Usual Cause.

There were only three arrests made by the police during Saturday night and Sunday. The trio would have had a hearing this morning, but owing to the absence of Mayor Weaver, who was unexpectedly called to Canton the victims will be compelled to await his return.

Levi Burrows had a "peach" of a jag on when arrested by Officer Morris. After drinking about all an ordinary man can stand up with decided to top the lark with a couple of cans of peaches. He went into the Arcade restaurant and the first thing he saw was peach cans galore. While he thought eyes were turned away from him he quietly confiscated two cans and was about to depart when hailed by the proprietor, who had him arrested.

William Boyd, of Georgetown, was drunk and could not escape the eagle eyes of Officer Bryan. Skinner Cunningham had several aboard when Officer McDermott grabbed him.

SENSATIONAL SUIT COMES FROM SALEM

A Preminent Business Man Sued by His Wife For Divorce.

SAD TALE OF ABUSE TOLD

Lisbon, September 14.—(Special)—Anna M. Hilles through her attorneys, Carey & Mullins and L. P. Metzger, of Salem, has filed suit for divorce from L. E. Hilles, asking also custody of their daughter, Lucile, aged 12, and reasonable alimony. The higher courts not being in session at present, a decree has been secured in probate court temporarily restraining the defendant from disposing of extensive holdings of real estate and other interests.

The petition says they were married in Salem, June 5, 1890, and that they have one daughter. As her first cause for action the plaintiff charges her husband with extreme cruelty, alleging that on divers occasions, as long ago as 1895, he has subjected her to physical abuse and has sworn at her and called her indecent names. In 1895, when they were living in Manila, P. I., she says he struck her in the face and choked her. In 1896 and 1897, while living at Saigon, and in Singapore, India, he is alleged to have struck her at different times, badly injuring and discoloring her face. During their more recent residence in Baltimore, Md., the husband's treatment is alleged to have been even

A new phase has developed in the gas situation. A number of the city's most prominent business men who have been fighting the proposition of the gas company since the first notification was served on the people, are now convinced that they have been treading on very uncertain ground and they have decided to change in their attitude toward the gas corporation.

Among the men referred to are several manufacturers, all of whom are today advocating a discontinuance of the action started against the company. They feel that the threat of the gas company is not a bluff and after weighing the matter fully have determined that by all means nothing should be done that would induce the company to discontinue business in this city. They figure that it would mean almost a panic among the manufacturers and are strongly against a continuance of the fight.

A meeting of the pottery manufacturers' association will be held tomorrow afternoon at which time the matter will be taken up from every standpoint. It is likely that the association will recommend to council a complete change in its mode of action. Relative to the situation a prominent manufacturer made the following statement this morning:

"I tell you the gas company is not bluffing. I know that the men who were here representing the company last week meant it when they said the company would shut off all gas flowing to this city if the new rate is not acceded to. If the gas is shut off the potteries will be closed down for at least four months and then they will not be in working order that they are today. The kilns of the majority of the potteries are so constructed that if coal were to be used again new bottoms would have to be built in all of them.

"To the manufacturers it would be a terrible blow to have the gas cut off. The gas company makes the statement that it will not fight the city if in injunction proceedings. It has determined to let the city do as it likes. If the injunction is applied for and granted no fight will be made. The officials say they will convert the gas that is being used in East Liverpool to Pittsburg and they meant every

Rev. George Fowler Has Accepted a Call to a British Island City Church.

Lisbon, September 14.—(Special)—At the morning service in the Christian church yesterday, Rev. George Fowler, who has been pastor for about five years, announced that he had accepted a call to a church in Southport, England. About 18 months ago he refused to accept a call to Liverpool, England, but for some time he has been in correspondence with the Southport church and last week received a cablegram announcing that a unanimous call had been extended to him.

Southport is a noted English health resort on the Irish sea, about 18 miles north of Liverpool. Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Fowler expect to sail from New York about October 15. It will be their first visit to England.

During his pastorate here, the longest pastorate the church has had in 30 years, the membership has increased about 150. Mr. Fowler came here from Canada, where he was born.

EXPECTS TO GET THE CHILD BACK

J. B. Ecker Will Enter Legal Proceedings to Recover His Niece.

SUIT TO BEGIN AT ONCE

J. B. Ecker has returned from a week's investigating tour relative to the kidnapping of his little 12-year-old niece, Myrtle Hewitt, at Canton, and her subsequent confinement in a convent at Cleveland. While away Mr Ecker had a rather romantic journey, but it was fruitful and the restoration of the child seems assured.

As was narrated in the News Review, the child was allowed to go to Canton on a visit. She was to have been home by the opening day of school last week, but she failed to arrive, owing to the action of relatives in Canton, who, it is alleged, kidnapped her and spirited her away to the Cleveland hospital.

Upon his arrival at Canton Mr. Ecker learned that two parties, relatives of his by marriage, had taken the child. They are alleged to be Mrs. Johannes Miller and Mrs. Ollie Herman. Charges have been preferred against the two women and they are to be taken before the court of Stark county to answer to the serious charge of kidnapping. The prosecuting attorney of that county has taken a deep interest in the case and will prosecute the women to the full extent of the law.

Mr. Ecker states that when he made application to the convent for the little girl that the mother superior turned him away, stating that he could not have the child at the present time under any consideration, but that after following a long line of red tape he could secure her by furnishing $1,000 as a surety bond. He referred this to the prosecutor at Canton, and the latter advised him to leave the case in his hands and he would get the child.

The prosecutor advised Mr. Ecker to see the father of the girl and he went to Johnstown, Pa., the home of the father on Friday. The father was very much worked up over the affair and stated he would do everything possible to get the child back. He was to have arrived in the city this morning, but failed to appear. Mr. Ecker expects him this afternoon and upon his arrival they will depart for Canton and prepare for the legal proceedings.

BOLD ATTEMPTS MADE TO ROB TWO DWELLINGS UPON SUNDAY EVENING

Two Men Went Through Every Room in Grocer Schmidt's House and One Attacked the Quest Residence.

Two bold attempts at burglary were made in the city last night between the hours of 10 and 11. Two men forced an entrance into the home of Grocer George P. Schmidt, Seventh street, and one man succeeded in getting into the house of Edward Quest, Center alley.

The men at the Schmidt home daringly entered the yard while people in the vicinity were watching them. The neighbors, however, did not think them to be burglars, and did not raise an alarm. Going to the rear of the home they raised boards from an opening leading to the cellar and had easy access to the upper portion of the house. The kitchen door had been left open by Mr. Schmidt and they entered through this door, and subsequently went through every room in the house.

Mr. Schmidt and wife sleep in an upstairs room and the two men entered their room a short time after they had retired. They discovered a pair of trousers hanging on a chair near the head of Mr. Schmidt's bed and took them down stairs. There they made an examination of the pockets. Discovering that they were empty, the trousers were thrown on the floor and the burglars commenced another search for money. It is thought while they were in the parlor of the house the arrival of Mr. Schmidt's boy, who had been out spending the evening, frightened them. The boy says he heard them making their escape. They are described as being tall men, who wore black suits and slouch hats.

The Quest home was entered from the front door. Mrs. Quest was up stairs and hearing a noise made, gave the alarm. Neighbors rushed to the house, but before their arrival the burglar had left. He was seen to go through several yards in getting away.

There is quite a mystery in connection with the attempts at burglary at this home. It will be remembered that a man tried to get in the same house one night last week and that Mrs. Quest with her baby in her arms jumped from a second story window upon hearing him at the front door. Who the man is, is not known. And why he should persist in trying to rob this house is also a mystery. The police will keep a strict watch around it in the future.

INJUNCTION SOUGHT BY SOLICITOR

Mr. Davidson Goes to Canton to Take Steps to Prevent the Appointment of Wyman as Chief.

As a last resort City Solicitor George E. Davidson decided late Saturday evening to apply to Judge Ambler at Canton for an injunction restraining the mayor from appointing John Wyman, permanent chief of police. For that purpose the solicitor left for Canton this morning. He was accompanied by Mayor Weaver, Attorney J. H. Brookes, D. M. Ogilvie and N. A. Frederick.

When the board of public safety ignored the notice served upon it by the solicitor, demanding that Mr. Wyman should not be allowed to take the examination for eligibility to appointment to the chief of policeship, the solicitor was convinced that his power over the board amounted to naught. He realized that if he could influence the members of that body to act as his construction of the code dictates, he would be compelled to carry the case to a court and after reviewing every feature of the momentous question, decided to carry the case before Judge Ambler.

In carrying out this determination, it was compulsory that the solicitor notify the mayor of his intended action and late last evening the notice was served. Though it was not learned positively this morning the exact nature of the injunction proceedings, Mr. Dawson, of the safety board, states that it can be but for two things—to restrain the mayor from appointing Mr. Wyman or to restrain the board from certifying Mr. Wyman's name for appointment. Mr. Dawson rather thought it was to restrain the mayor, no notice having been served on the board.

Upon learning that the case was to come up at Canton today, Mayor Weaver retained Attorney Brookes to represent his side of the question and requested Mr. Ogilvie to accompany them. Mr. Frederick, it is said, went along simply to see the fun.

News and Notes About The Potteries

Another conference is to be held by committees representing the National Brotherhood of Operative Potters and the United States Potters' association in an effort to adjust the wage scale. This fact was announced at the conclusion of the meeting of the executive board of the Brotherhood, held Saturday afternoon and evening. The date for the conference has not been fixed, but it is likely that it will be held before the end of the week.

President Duffy, of the Brotherhood, notified the manufacturers this morning that the executive board had decided to accede to the request for another conference. The time and place of the conference will probably be determined by the manufacturers. Their committee is yet to be named.

The failure of the committee from the Western Manufacturers' association to reach an agreement with the committee from the Brotherhood did not mean an end of the effort to adjust the differences. Now a committee will be named from the United States association to carry on the negotiations.

Four additional members, all from the east, will be added to the Brotherhood committee for the coming conference and the manufacturers' committee will also be increased a like number. First Vice President Hutchins will be one of the additional conferees and he will remain in this city until the conference is held. The others have not been announced by President Duffy.

At the meeting of the executive board the resignation of National Treasurer Aaron Coleman was presented. Mr. Coleman was elected treasurer at the national convention held at Wheeling last May and had made a painstaking and efficient official. His resignation came as a genuine surprise. Mr. Coleman had been selected by the board of directors of the co-operative store to manage the establishment and this reason was given for his resignation. The board considerd it sufficient and the resignation was accepted. The vacancy was filled by the selection of John A. Wood, national treasurer last year. Mr. Wood, during his previous term of office, performed his duties to the satisfaction of all and is in every way qualified to fill out Mr. Coleman's term.

Joseph G. Lee, of the K., T. & K., is president of the United States Potters' association and H. A. Keffer, of the Sevres China company, is secretary. Mr. Lee stated this afternoon that there was nothing concerning the conference to give to the public at this time. Their selection of a committee has not yet been made.

ZANESVILLE ART WARE.

L. A. Miller, the Zanesville art potter, is putting out a new French ware that is about the finest thing ever attempted in the art ware line in this country. The decoration has a silvery appearance into which is blended many color effects. Different designs are also blended with the silver, making something entirely new in the art ware line. A buyer from Tiffany & Co., of New York, was in Zanesville last week and bought heavily of these goods, which are already making quite a hit.

The Arc En Ciel Pottery company, of Zanesville, are also putting out a new ware that has a silvery effect, but at the same time is very different in decoration from the Weller ware. The ware has a silvery appearance through which appear distinct designs such as gold fish, etc., while the Weller ware contains no distinct designs, but the decorations are more on the scroll and oriental design order.

He will now have charge of the two local plants and the one at Tiltonville. At present he is living in Tiltonville, but it is probable that he will move to Wheeling in the near future.

THE PHARISEE IN RELIGION

Subject of an Able Sermon by Rev. J. G. Reinartz, of the Lutheran Church.

MISTAKES OF CHRISTIANS

How They Fall Short In Duty Forcibly Pointed Out—The True Witnesses of God—The Only Way to Progress in Holiness.

Rev. J. G. Reinartz, at the Lutheran church, last evening, preached from Luke 17:10, "Two men went up into the temple to pray." He said in part:

"Two serious mistakes are made with regard to God's temple, and both mark certain extremes from which it is well if man is delivered.

"In their day perhaps no people were more devoted to the service in God's house than the Scribes and Pharisees. Their history shows to what degredation man can sink, and opens our eyes to the corruption that may exist in places of holiness. Many of these priests were reared amid surroundings of the temple, but their religion was one lost in the letter of the word and was severed from practical life about as far as it is possible to imagine. The service in the temple had become a sort of business for the display of the various stages of selfrighteousness. The other extreme arises from a total disregard of the temple which frequently results from a keen intelligent mind that beholds the inconsistencies of men and takes offense thereat, as well as from ignorance and stupidity that loves its own way and delights in sin.

"No man ever saw the follies and inconsistencies of men so much as Jesus. No one ever exposed the hypocracy of the Pharisee's religion as He did. Humanely speaking, He had many and weighty reasons for thinking lightly of God's temple in Jerusalem, but He did not. He loved it for what it was before God, and in spite of what sinful men had made it.

"How ought man to worship? Where there is no prayer, there is no worship. Religion is the communion of the soul with God and this is ordinarily maintained by prayer. In days of old the temple of Jehovah was the place for prayer and both these men, whatever their excellencies or defects, were intent on this. They entered the temple and prayed. It is a sad thing when this fact was overlooked, but the danger for doing so is very great. The temple itself may have adornments or attractions of a character to divert the soul rather than help it to piety. The music may lift into prominence the singers, or the sermon the one who preaches, rather than Him of whom he ought to speak—Christ. The uppermost desire must be to hold communion with God. Where this is wanting all efforts at being religious are a farce.

"No worship, no sincereity. But while prayer has its formal part, that has to do with one's attitude, or the outward expression, it also has an inner substance. A prayer may be said on the corner of the street or it may be so conceived as to bring forth no small amount of selfrighteousness, or it may make very inoidious comparisons. It may be lost in words for want of something to say. Men have preached sermons in prayers, and have used them for lashing evil doers, or flattering the vanity of others and commending their actions. It is possible through a worldly spirit to lose all sacredness of prayer. The proper source of communion with God lies in the holiness of the Almighty.

"No sincerity, no blessing. We are not informed about the particular sin which this publican had done who in a general way acknowledges himself a sinner, nor is it necessary to demand a special emphasis. Under the culturing care of heaven man's onward progression in holiness is marked from baptism onward to death. The insect is not immediately ready to become a chrysalis and when a man is completely fullfledged in holiness, we could not seriously think of any step beyond this than the grave. There is an order and system in the Bible and our experience, which finds an analogy in it. We are Christians but never quite as perfect as the best ones of the Bible. We are good, but never quite as good as our loftiest idea of goodness. We are holy but not as holy as Christ. The Bible nourishes

A fight of long duration between two families in Jethro has at last reached the mayor's court. The parties implicated are Mike Smith, wife and son and Mrs. Shaffer. The latter charges the trio with throwing stones at her and her children, and many other things. Mrs. Shaffer stated this morning at the city hall that some very funny evidence would be produced at the hearing which will likely be tomorrow evening. She said that the trouble originated over eight small black cats.

Mrs. Shaffer never did like cats and it seems to be a hobby of the Smith family to raise them. They have eight and when the little things roamed over into the yard of Mrs. Shaffer a kick was immediately registered.

AN OHIO MAN THE DEFENDANT

Two Suits Against R. C. Penfield Pending in New Jersey U. S. Court.

THE CHARGES ARE GRAVE

From a Staff Correspondent.

Trenton, N. J., September 14.—(Special)—One of the principal cases to be tried at the September term of the United States court will be that of Raymond C. Penfield, an Ohio citizen, against whom two suits are pending, charging him with juggling the paper of the Great Eastern Clay Manufacturing company and the National Clay Manufacturing company, two corporations operating under charters granted by New Jersey.

The financial affairs of the two companies are in such shape that a petition was filed in the United States District court this week, asking for the appointment of a receiver to manage their affairs. In compliance with the petition, Judge Kirkpatrick has appointed the Continental Trust company of New York, ancilliary receiver.

The complainant in each suit is the Standard Vetrified Conduit company of New York city. In the suit involving the National Clay Manufacturing company it is claimed that there is owing the company a note for $4,000 of the date of August 31, 1903, on which demand has been made for payment.

Penfield is charged in the bill of complaint of being the owner of all the capital stock of the American Clay Working Machine company of Ohio, and further, that he controls more than half of the million dollar capitalization of the National Clay Manufacturing company. It is claimed in the bill that Penfield has gained control of the latter company's affairs and has caused to be issued more than $250,000 of stock which he has used for his own benefit in other business ventures.

The complainants assert that in spite of the recent stock issued being protected by the valuable clay property of the National company in Perth Amboy, and which acts as security to a certain specified dividend, there is a likelihood of the assets of the company being sold to satisfy the claims of the stockholders. The bill charges that this stock is in the hands of innocent third parties and is about ready to be presented for payment for the dividends guaranteed by the National company's Perth Amboy holdings.

Similar charges are made against Penfield in the suit involving the Great Eastern Clay company, with the exception that a note which also matured August 31 last, is for $3,500 and that he is charged with "juggling" $400,000 worth of notes in the name of the concern and for his own use. The Great Eastern Clay company, which is likewise capitalized at $1,000,000, is declared to be in the control of Penfield. It owns with the National company rich properties at Perth Amboy.

Considerable interest is attached to the outcome of the suit, especially among the manufacturing potters and brickmakers of this city, as many of them purchase their clay in the raw state from the two clay companies. In fact, the two companies furnish a large part of the clay used in the manufacture of crockery and terra-cotta and pending the outcome of the suits their plants have been shut down.

The Young Men's Christian Association has commenced the educational campaign among the potters with apparently good results. Through arrangements with Vice President Hutchins, F. P. Lamphere, educational director of the association, has made arrangements to have the work of the association brought before the locals comprising the local representation of the National Brotherhood of Operative Potters. Thursday night Mr. Lamphere addressed the kilnmen and the following other dates have been arragned: September 15, sanitary workers; September 16, turners, throwers and handlers; September 18, packers; September 21, dippers; September 22, jiggermen, and September 23, saggermakers.

Thursday during the noon hour Mr. Lamphere conducted an educational meeting for the men of the Willetts pottery. About 100 employes were present. They were addressed by Mr. Lamphere and D. B. Marks, membership secretary, and Messrs. Stephen Hutchinson, and Hill, of the shop committee. Yesterday a similar meeting was held at the plant of the Trenton Lamp company. Meetings were held early in the week at the Trenton Fire Clay works, the Maddock pottery, the Empire pottery and the Ideal pottery.

CURES KIDNEY AND BLADDER TROUBLES,

Rheumatism, All Diseases of the Blood, Backache, Nervous Dyspepsia, Clear the Complexion and Aid Digestion.

Give you a good appetite, renew life cells in young and old. Permanently restore youthful vigor and vitality. They tone up the whole system and make you feel like a new person. No remedy in the world to equal them. Take a few Nervan Tablets and note the wonderful effect.

ALCOHOL IN ALL LIQUID KIDNEY AND RHEUMATIC REMEDIES CONDEMNS THEM.

An ignorantly compounded remedy, containing alcohol, as nearly all kidney remedies do, will stimulate them so violently that an inflammation will be set up and instead of being merely lazy the kidneys will become diseased. Alcohol congests the kidneys with blood and retards their activity.

There is no Alcohol in Nervan Tablets to interfere with the removal of all harmful sediment from the body. The Tablets soothe and heal the kidneys when they are irritated and inflamed. They cure the kidney diseases that make you dizzy, restless, sleepless and irritable; that make you pass water often during the day and night; that cause rheumatism, catarrh of the bladder, pain in the back, joints and muscles; that make your head ache and indigestion, stomach and liver trouble, and a sallow, yellow complexion.

No matter how many other remedies you may have tried and found useless, remember the great modern remedy, Nervan Tablets.

The gas question has reached a stage where it requires to be handled with delicacy and discretion. The manufacturers have been convinced by the representatives of the gas trust that their supply will be shut off at the expiration of existing contracts if the city proceeds to get the injunction asked. That would be a serious blow to the city—far more serious than the increase which the gas trust is demanding. The popular impression—which the News Review has shared—has been that the gas combine would surrender to the terms of the city before it would abandon the large business it has been doing here. The statement coming from the manufacturers that the gas people will not fight the injunction but will withdraw from the field if enjoined puts a different phase upon the matter. Council should thoroughly investigate all sides of the question before taking radical action. If the city cannot have gas after it gets the injunction it will win a barren and costly victory. The gas company evidently has a wholesome respect for the Ohio law, but even the law cannot compel it to do business unless it wants to. The question confronting council is whether the combine is bluffing; if it is not, the city should go slowly. We believe in standing up for the people's interests; but it is not to anybody's interest to cut off the gas supply.

Some of the trusts will soon cease to trouble our Democratic friends, or anybody else, for that matter. It appears that forty-five of the corporations made in New Jersey have been placed in the hands of receivers since the first of the year, but their liabilities are fourteen times as great as their assets, and that the stockholders in a majority of them are not likely to get anything worth mentioning out of their investment. There is nothing surprising in this revelation. The day has gone by when watered stock is in demand, and the bulk of the assets of these corporations which have failed appear to have been wind and water.

The city of Cleveland is having trouble similar to that experienced by East Liverpool in disposing of its bonds. On last Friday bids were opened for $600,000 worth of twenty-year 4 per cents. Bond buyers asked for only $120,000 worth of them. The premium bid was $15 for twenty thousand dollars' worth, and $50 each for two lots of fifty thousand. This does not prove that there is anything wrong with the money market. Rather, it is an indication that capital seeks and finds more profitable opportunities than investments that pay only 4 per cent.

The London Spectator suggests a new method, and an effective one, of dealing with the Turkish question. It is for a combined fleet of the European powers to anchor in front of Constantinople, and to order the retirement of the sultan and the Turkish government across the Bosphorus to Asia, relinquishing European Turkey to the Powers.

Six inches of snow and genuine blizzards in the west while midsummer brightness overspreads the east are conditions not calculated to trouble those who neglected to take Horace Greeley's advice.

The sultan's soldiers are such brave fighters it is a pity they are not fighting for the right rather than for the upholding of a government which no one respects and the whole world loathes.

AT THE THEATER

"An Indiana Romance," a new play from the pen of J. C. Nugent, will be the attraction at the Grand Tuesday evening. This highly successful pastoral comedy drama belongs to a class of dramatic literature that appeals strongly to the emotions, while not offending the intelligence of the conscious theater-goer. As a play, and considered in that light, it is a valuable addition to the contemporary drama, because it accurately presents a phase of real country life in a story in which is splendidly moulded the qualities of pathos and humor, as they should be presented on the stage.

One of the very best attractions of the season, Lizzie Evans in the comedy drama, "At Cozy Corners," is coming to the Grand on Thursday evening. Miss Evans is too well known to theatre-goers to require any of the extravagant praise that usually proceeds theatrical stars. She has built up a great reputation by her splendid talents. She is an energetic little actress, full of ginger and magnetism and her portrayal of "Claudia, a violinist," in "Cozy Corners" is considered the most fetching thing she has ever done.

No writer has given such clear, keen description of the English peasant life as Thomas Hardy does in his various novels, all of which have been published in 100,000 editions. His "Tess of the D'Urbervilles" was dramatized by Lorrimer Stoddard for Harrison Gray Fiske, whose production of it in New York received the greatest endorsements given to a drama in recent years.

Miss Carline Rohr is starring this season in "Tess of the D'Urbervilles." Her portrayal of the dairy maid is most effective, graceful and natural and has been called by some writers the ideal "Tess."

WELLSVILLE

Watch, Money and Eatables Were Secured—No Clue As to the Thieves' Identity.

Nevada street, near Eighteenth street, was the scene of a number of burglaries last night, two men having entered three different houses and succeeding in securing a watch, a pocketbook containing a small amount of money, and numerous pies, cakes and other eatables.

The house of Mr. Mackie, the home of Alexander Gerran, and one other house were entered by two men shortly after 12 o'clock. It is presumed that the burglars were amateurs in the business or probably tramps, judging from the manner in which they entered the houses. The Mackie house was entered by way of the outside cellar door which was not locked securely and was forced open. The Gerran home was entered by an outside door which was also unfastened. In the third house the men were unable to enter further than the cellar. Nothing was secured at the Mackie home, the men being frightened away by two young lady occupants of the house who had not yet retired. The valuables mentioned and all available eatables were taken at the Gerran home, while at the third house only canned fruit is missing.

The burglars left no clue to their identity, although local officers believe that the men are still in the city. They are now working on the case and arrests may follow.

BIDS RECEIVED

For the Paving of Lisbon Road By Board of Public Service.

A special meeting of the board of public service was held Saturday afternoon for the purpose of opening the new bids on the paving of Lisbon road, a contract which was bid on two weeks ago, and for which the bids were all rejected because of an irregularity. Bids were received from the following contractors: A. B. Clark, C. A. Freshwater, Rinehart Bros. and Mr. McLaughlin.

On motion of Bowers, the bids were ordered referred to City Civil Engineer Leith, with instructions to go over same and report the lowest bidder at the Tuesday morning session of the board.

From outside appearances and reading of the bids, it would seem that A. B. Clark is the lowest bidder, but this remains to be seen.

Mr. Bowers made a motion, after a report had been heard from Superintendent C. C. Ewing, of the water works, that the clerk of the board be instructed to purchase 300 bushels of coal for the water works pumping station for use in emergency purposes. The motion passed and the board adjourned.

SIGNS BOND AND TAKES ALL RISK

Will Reed Has Such Faith in Mi-o-na the Flesh-Forming Food, He Sells It Under Guarantee.

Not one time in 500 does Mi-o-na fail to cure dyspepsia. It is because of its remarkable power to cure this disease that Will Reed is able to sell it in the following unusual way.

With every 50c box he gives a signed guarantee bond to refund the price if the purchaser can honestly tell him that it has not given freedom from stomach troubles, increased flesh, and restored health. The risk is all Mr. Reed's as the following bond which he signs fully shows:

GUARANTEE BOND.

I hereby agree to refund the price paid for Mi-o-na, if the purchaser tells me that it has not increased flesh and given freedom from stomach troubles. WILL REED.

Mi-o-na is not a mere digestive that simply gives temporary relief.

While it helps the food to digest, it also has a positive strengthening action upon the digestive organs and puts the whole system in proper physical condition. It restores power to the nerves of the stomach and in this way gives that important organ the power to digest food. In this way natural flesh is regained and health restored.

Remember that you risk nothing in buying Mi-o-na. The bond protects you, so that if it fails to give the desired effect, Will Reed will return your money without question and without argument.

Small Blaze in a House.

A small fire broke out Saturday evening shortly after 5 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Martin Barth, Main and Seventeenth streets. A railroad man saw flames issuing from the garret window and at once went in search for the pony engine which is sometimes used for fire purposes in the yards. The engine, in charge of Engineer Humphrey, was soon brought to the scene. It was found that a pile of old clothes had caught fire, presumably from a spark from an engine. The fire was quickly extinguished and but little damage was done.

Date of Band Dance.

A meeting of the new band organization was held here a few evenings ago at the call of Mayor Fogo, who is the prime mover in the project, for the purpose of selecting a date for the benefit dance which was to have been held in the city hall a week or so ago, but which was postponed because enough tickets had not been sold to guarantee the success of the venture. It was decided at this meeting to hold the dance, rain or shine, on Thursday evening, September 24, and the members were urged to rush the sale of tickets.

Venerable William Burbick Fell Dead of Heart Disease Saturday.

Lisbon, September 14.—(Special)—William Burbick, who had spent nearly all of the 81 years of his life in Center township, died suddenly Saturday afternoon of heart trouble, at the home of his daughter, Mrs. G. E. Randalls, in Hanover township. Up to the time when he fell dead Mr. Burbick was apparent in his usual health. He was born February 20, 1822, in Center township, was a lifeling Democrat and never voted but once outside of Center township.

Mrs. Burbick survives her husband. Until two years ago, when they went to make their home with their children, they lived on their farm in Center township, two miles south-west of Lisbon. SOUTH SIDE

Took Advantage of the Hancock County Picnic to Get Acquainted With the People.

The Hancock county picnic on the occasion of its last celebration was notable for one thing, at least. There were more politicians and prospective candidates present than ever was gathered together at one place before. They came to the park early and throughout the entire day the "glad hand" did over time. Hancock county, as West Virginia, can now be counted upon to take its place in the Republican list, and for that reason the party primaries have a much greater significance than in any previous year.

For every office in the gift of the party there are a number of candidates, and when the primary election is held in Hancock county next spring there will be the scramble for place the like of which has never before been known. The two candidates for congressional honors were at Rock Springs Saturday, and from that down to the smallest and most insignificant position in the county, the aspirants were putting in their best licks.

Among those who are said to have made the best impression was J. S. D. Mercer, of Chester, who is a candidate for county assessor. Mr. Mercer has been mayor of Chester for some time and has filled the office with credit to himself. He has been so successful with the administration that the town is pointed to as a model.

So much interest was manifested in the work of the politicians at the county picnic that some of the leaders called a caucus, which was held in New Cumberland yesterday. It is not known what the candidates and their friends decided upon, but it is understood the slate for the coming primary was partially completed.

John Mackey, a Jethro Lad, Had a Narrow Escape Saturday Evening.

John Mackey, a 13-year-old boy residing with his parents on Florence street, West End, came near losing his life by drowning in the river opposite Jethro Saturday evening. The lad, with a number of companions, was in bathing, and Mackey wandered too far from shore. It is thought he was seized with cramps and could not help himself.

His terrible plight was discovered by William Portman, an aged resident of Jethro, and seizing an oar he jumped into a skiff and succeeded in rescuing the boy just as he was disappearing beneath the water for the last time. The lad was taken to his home in the patrol.

Seasongood & Mayer Take Up the $22,000 Issue After Months of Delay.

After months of delay caused by prospective buyers making careful inquiry into the regularity of the issue, the $22,000 of Chester bonds were delivered to Seasongood & Mayer, of Cincinnati, and the officials of the town now have the money.

Bond Commissioners O. O. Allison and George D. Ingram, with Recorder J. H. Maxwell and Mayor Mercer, met with the representative of the company at the First National bank of Chester at 1:30 this afternoon and the bonds were sealed, signed and delivered within a few minutes. The transaction will relieve an embarrassed condition under which the town has labored for several months, and the citizens and authorities alike are gratified.

OIL OPERATIONS

New Rigs Will Be Put Up Near Chester Within the Next Few Days.

Several more oil rigs will be located in the vicinity of Chester within the next few days, and from now until late in the fall oil operations will be active.

A well have been located on the old Waitman Allison farm, now the property of Pittsburg parties, and the contract for the drilling has been let to William Hyte. The drilling machinery has been hauled to the spot and is being set up as fast as possible.

Young Gamblers Arrested.

Harry Fodrey, Walter Nookes and Harry Greenley were arrested by Sergeant Allison yesterday. The lads were engaged in a quiet game of penny ante and were surprised at the interference of the officer. They were taken before Mayor Mercer, who imposed a fine of $1 and costs. They promised to pay and were released. Numerous complaints have been made to the authorities regarding violations of the law on the part of boys from East Liverpool, who congregate at the Pusey orchard each Sunday and the nuisance will be abated at any cost.

Pocket Picking Charged.

Officer Baker arrested Thomas Dailey, of Steubenville, Saturday evening on a charge of pocket picking. One of the picnickers, becoming drunk, lay down for a sleep, and his wife alleges she caught Dailey in the act of rifling her husband's pockets. The man was taken to jail and remained over night. It was found Dailey had not succeeded in securing any booty, and as the woman did not appear to prosecute, he was released.

Harry Miller and A. M. Carnahan were arrested at the park Saturday evening by Officer Baker. Each was fined by the mayor, and arranging for the payment were released. The charge was drunkenness.

EXAMINERS AT WORK ON B & L BOOKS

A State Official Examining the Condition of the Local Association.

Special Examiner D. P. McCorkle, of the state insurance department at Columbus, is in the city, hard at work in the examination of the books, etc., connected with all of the local building and loan associations. Mr. McCorkle has been at work for several days and states that he may be in the city for several weeks. He is a man well qualified for the responsible position he holds, having had years of practical experience and having been connected with the insurance department of the state for four years.

Though his work will not be of as much local interest as was that of Mr. MacKenzie, who examined the books of the city clerk and the water works, it will be of great interest to all connected in any manner with the loan offices of the city, and his report, which will be submitted to the authorities at Columbus upon his completion of the work here, will be looked forward to with considerable interest.

CHRONIC SORES

There is nothing so repulsive looking and disgusting as an old sore. You worry over it till the brain grows weary and work with it until the patience is exhausted, and the very sight of the old festering, sickly looking place makes you irritable, despondent and desperate.

A chronic sore is the very best evidence that your blood is in an unhealthy and impoverished condition, that your constitution is breaking down under the effects of some serious disorder. The taking of strong medicines, like mercury or potash, will sometimes so pollute and vitiate the blood and impair the general system that the merest scratch or bruise results in obstinate non-healing sores of the most offensive character.

Often an inherited taint breaks out in frightful eating sores upon the limbs or face in old age or middle life. Whenever a sore refuses to heal the blood is always at fault, and, while antiseptic washes, salves, soaps and powders can do much to keep down the inflammation and cleanse the sore, it will never heal permanently till the blood itself has been purified and the deadly germs and poisons destroyed, and with S. S. S. this can be accomplished—the polluted blood is purified and invigorated, and when rich, pure blood is again circulating freely throughout the body the flesh around the old sore begins to take on a natural color, the discharge of matter ceases and the place heals over.

S. S. S. is both a blood purifier and tonic that puts your blood in order and at the same time tones up the system and builds up the general health. If you have a chronic sore write us. No charge for medical advice.

DRAVOSBURG LOST THE SECOND GAME

Pitcher Spittal, who was sent to the slab for the Dravosburg team in Saturday's game at the West End park did a balloon ascension in the sixth inning, just in time to save the bacon of one Morg Winters, who was getting bumped with startling regularity.

While the visiting twirler was not setting up as a rival of Prof. Kincaid, who is to make two balloon ascensions at the News Review's big picnic tomorrow, he gave a performance that was very satisfactory to the local fans. The batting streak which inflated his balloon for the trip, coming as it did with two hands down, was the prettiest and lengthiest swatfest seen on the local grounds this season. While it was going on Morg was sitting on the home players' bench shaking hands with himself. In that round, after Woods had dropped Vasbinder's easy sky scraper, every man on the team scored a run and every man, except Vasbinder, found Spittal for a safety.

After the eighth hit and ninth run Spittal concluded that the locals would "make a hundred" if he remained in the box and he threw up the sponge. Welsh, who pitched Friday's game, answered the distress signal and stopped the fusilade by retiring the first man that faced him.

For the first five innings the contest was a pretty one, the score being 2 to 1 in favor of the locals. Spittal had been a puzzle and the locals had found him safely but three times. The two runs were scored on one of the most peculiar plays ever seen on the local diamond, heady base running making the play possible. Only one hit figured in these scores. The visitors had three hits in the second, productive of but one run.

Besides swatting the leather hard the locals put up on errorless game in the field, the only sign of an error coming in the third when Osborne laid down a bunt toward first. Winters started to field the ball, but concluded to let Webb have it. This mixup gave Osborne a chance to reach the bag, and though Webb failed to pick up the ball, he cannot be charged with an error.

Those two in the first, curiously brought about, looked as big as a dozen for awhile. After the visitors had failed Gibson walked and Wallace beat out a slow one. Brown was presented with a pass, filling all the corners. While Spittal was pitching to Heck Weisser tried to wing Brown at first and whipped the ball there before Brown, who had been taking big leads, could get back. Brown darted to second and the procession moved. Wallace forced off his perch at bag No. 2 made for third and Gibby made room for him by starting home. Woods threw to Rowe to nail Brown as Gibby left third and Rowe held the ball a moment too long before trying to nail Gibby. As the leather reached Weisser Gibby took the dirt and by a magnificent slide was safe. Weisser threw to second and Wallace started home, scoring when Weisser failed to hold the return to catch him.

The visitors made one in the second. Porte singled and Welsh hit safely to right. Boyle walked, filling the bases and after Spittal had failed to connect, Hill hit one to center. Porte scored, but Vasbinder by a magnificent throw to the plate nailed Welsh.

Three little hits when the sixth round was reached looked like mighty slim picking alongside the cluster of six the visitors had gathered from Morg's shoots and slants. But here Spittal got his bumps. With two down Heck was given a base on balls and Woods failed to retire the side by dropping Vasbinder's high fly. A passed ball helped both runners up a peg and Vasbinder scored when Webb cracked out a safety. Webb stole second and Jarvis dropped a fly in safe territory back of short, Heck counting. Emmerling poked one into safe territory, scoring Webb, and Winters cleared the sacks with a three-ply lick. Gibby scored Morg with a clean lick and Wallace helped Gibby to third with a single, both scoring when Brown singled. Heck made the eighth hit of the inning, scoring Brown with the ninth run. Spittal saw he could not stop the performance and called Welsh to the slab.

In the seventh the visitors made four. Spittal walked and was helped along on Hill's safety. Rowe's single scored Spittal and Weisser cleared the bases with a triple, scoring on a long fly. The consecutive passes and Hill's single gave them another in the eighth and in the ninth Weisser made his second triple, scoring on an out. The score:

The game at Central park, Wellsville, Saturday, between the East Liverpool Athletics and the Wellsville Athletics, though short, was one of the most interesting that has been played in the sister city this season. Five innings only were played and it resulted in the score of 2 to 0 in favor of the Crockery City lads.

Owing to a misunderstanding a very small crowd witnessed the contest. The management of the Wellsville team had not advertised the game at all, and when the time came for playing only half of his men were on the ground. Notwithstanding these drawbacks the two teams played with spirit and did themselves credit. Tommie Davis pitched for the locals and his playmates were reminded of years ago when he held down the rubber at all times. He seems to have more speed than ever and his curves are great. Wellsville fought him hard and made vicious attempts to hit him up for a few long ones, but it was not in them. He held his control to the right pitch and let them down with three measly hits. Ashbaugh, of New Cumberland, pitched for Wellsville and he, too, did good work. Only five hits were made off of him and they were nothing to speak of. The teams have been nagging at each other for some time now and it is expected that a series of games will be arranged for them before the end of the season. The score:

Batteries—Davis and Emmerling, Ashbaugh and Coleman.

Among the attractions of interest, especially to the young, at Rock Springs park Saturday, was the game of base ball played in the afternoon by a team of boys ranging in age from 12 to 15 years of New Cumberland, and the Legal Stars, of this city. After nine of the hardest innings experienced by boy teams in many months, the Stars won by a score of 8 to 5.

The New Cumberland team showed that it understood the game to perfection and it was not long after the contest was started until the local aggregation realized that to win the game meant a strenuous effort on the part of every player. Gibson, the well known twirler, of Wellsburg, was on the rubber for the West Virginians and he put them over in a style very mysterious. Smith, for the locals, however, were well represented in Smith. The score:

	R.	H.	E.
Legal Stars 8	12	3
New Cumberland 5	8	2

Batteries—Smith and Mounts; Gibson and Black.

The Genuine vs. the Counterfeits.

The genuine is always better than a counterfeit, but the truth of this statement is never more forcibly realized or more thoroughly appreciated than when you compare the genuine DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve with the many counterfeits and worthless substitutes that are on the market. W. S. Ledbetter, of Shreveport, La., says: "After using numerous other remedies without benefit, one box of DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve cured me." For blind, bleeding, itching and protruding piles no remedy is equal to DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve.

BOY BADLY HURT UPON THE STREETS

Knocked Down By a Horse And Got a Gash Upon His Forehead.

Carl Beebout, a small son of John Beebout, of College street, was run down by a horse on Washington street this morning and sustained severe injuries to his head.

A crowd of small boys were playing in the middle of the street. In some manner they became involved in a quarrel and were so intent upon the battle that they failed to notice the approach of the rig. Young Beebout ran directly toward the horse in an effort to get away and was knocked down. His forehead came in contact with the paving and a deep gash an inch in length was inflicted.

The lad was carried into Mrs. A. V. Thompson's store and was later taken to his home. The injuries, though painful, are not serious. The driver of the outfit was in no way to blame, as the horse was walking and the boys had no right in the street.

Go Prepared.

In preparing for your summer outing a little forethought may save you no end of trouble. Mr. John H. Mauly, a dry goods merchant, of Bellville, R. I., while packing an outfit for camping a few weeks on Narragansett Bay, put in a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy for emergency use. The second day in camp his little boy was taken with cramp colic. The first dose of this remedy gave relief and the second dose effected a cure. Think of the pain and suffering this boy would have had to endure without this remedy at hand to relieve him. Such cases often result fatally. For sale by Alvin H. Bulger.

and cultivates the ideal life. It is the preacher's business to seize hold of this. There lies his power with the cultured hearer. In our beautiful service we make a common confession of sin.

"Why is our church service sometimes so neutral in character? We may not have the humility of the publican, whose worship eventuates in blessing, or we lack the audacity of the Pharisee who manifested his life in outward act and who stands a subject for correction. Let us with God's help worship like the publican. It is sad to be a Pharisee, yet better this than no worshipper at all, for our text knows of no third class. May Pharisaic worship cease and under God's blessing may there be one fold and one shepherd."

COMMUNION AT M. E. CHURCH

DR. MANCHESTER, PRESIDING ELDER, WAS THERE.

Dr. Pratt, at the Evening Service, Gave an Interesting And Able Sermon.

There was no preaching at the First M. E. church yesterday morning, the entire time being devoted to communion services. Rev. Dr. C. E. Manchester, presiding elder of the district, was present and he conducted the services in his usual acceptable manner. He was assisted by Rev. Dr. Pratt.

Prior to the service Dr. Pratt made a few remarks that were very entertaining to the church members in particular. He announced the pleasure derived from all of the meetings of the past week and extended a cordial invitation to every one in the congregation to attend all of the regular meetings this week. The present week is the last of the conference year and the minister said he thought the entire membership should be in attendance as much as possible. Relative to the organization that was formed a few weeks ago for the purpose of looking after the numberless girls of the city and community that are daily being led among the unrighteous paths the minister said that considerable good is already being done. He predicts that within the year the results of the organization will be wonderful.

"During the past two weeks," said he, there have been wonders worked among the classes for whom the organization was formed. The leaders in the movement have been hard after the young girls and their efforts positively have not been fruitless. There is not another city of the size in the state that so needs this kind of work. We have hundreds of unchaperoned girls working in local potteries who are daily brought into contact with vulgarism in its lowest degree and the wonder to me is that more of them do not fall astray."

In conclusion Dr. Pratt appealed to the congregation to help the cause by becoming a member of the organization and helping it get along by subscribing $1 per year for its maintenance. He said that $12 per week will be necessary to keep the movement going, that to include the expenses of the person ahead of it and numerous other little necessities.

At the evening's service Dr. Pratt's subject was "Hezekiah and His Poultice of Figs." He gave an intensely interesting account of how Hezekiah after many backslidings had at last succeeded to the throne and of the remarkable victory he gained, with the help of God, over Sennacherib, the crafty Assyrian warrior and king. Hezekiah was a reformer and sought by aggressive methods to overthrow the idols and superstitions of his people and lead them into the rightful worship of the living God. When he had been valiant and faithful for many years, he was not a little cast down when the heavy hand of affliction descended upon him, and when told by the prophet that he must die "turned his face toward the wall and prayed unto the Lord." His petition was heard and then the prophet came with the poultice of figs which he applied to the affliction with the statement that he would recover and live fifteen more years, the sun on the dial being set back fifteen degrees by divine agencies. The sickness and miraculous recovery of Hezekiah pictures the interest God takes in human affairs. There is no sense, no wisdom and no security in any human plan that leaves out God. There can be no safe reckoning when God is neglected and forgotten. Remorseless powers are ever at man's elbow and succor comes only through the grace and glory of God. Man must both work and pray, for one is ineffectual without the other.

Prayer will not cure the sick; a physician is always necessary, and between the skill of the doctor and the efficacy of prayer disease is rebuked. Man must co-operate with God in all things if success and salvation are attained.

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Don't Know it.

How To Find Out.

Fill a bottle or common glass with your water and let it stand twenty-four hours; a sediment or settling indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys; if it stains your linen it is evidence of kidney trouble; too frequent desire to pass it or pain in the back is also convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder are out of order.

What to Do.

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy fulfills every wish in curing rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in 50c. and $1. sizes.

You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful discovery and a book that tells more about it, both sent absolutely free by mail. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper.

STRENGTH OF YOUTH

The Young Man Particularly Well Fitted to Combat the Hosts of Evil.

Rev. C. G. Jordan last evening preached from Psalms 68:28, saying in part:

"Young men are peculiarly well fitted to fight the battles against the forces of sin. They have the vigor, enthusiasm, and the ambition to succeed. In fact, they know not their strength. William Pitt had attracted the attention of the civilized world by his eloquence when but 24 years of age. John Calvin did his great work before he was 30, and even Christ who had given a word that will never die was but 33 years old. Such examples of which history's pages are filled should give confidence to young men having worthy aspirations. But their strength is continually menaced by the forces of evil and their allies. Their strength may be misdirected because the church and churchmen often condone wrongs. An instance is that of the minister who recently contended that the Bible justified the awful crime of lynching."

The speaker called upon all to comply with God's command by stopping the desecration of the Sabbath and fighting the iniquities of politics and evil in every form.

PRESBYTERY MEETING

Resignation of Mr. Jordan and Call to Dr. Montgomery to Be Acted Upon.

The Steubenville Presbyterian presbytery meets at Smithfield this evening and tomorrow. Rev. P. W. Snyder, of Calcutta, retiring moderator, will preach the opening sermon. The resignation of Rev. C. G. Jordan as pastor in this city will be acted upon. Tomorrow evening Rev. W. B. Irwin, pastor of the Second Presbyterian church of Steubenville, will speak on home missions. Mr. Elder D. Moore, of this city, will deliver an address on the foreign missionary forward movement and Rev. Alexander Sharp, pastor of Potter chapel, Mingo Junction, will have an address on foreign missions in South Africa, where he was engaged for a number of years.

The commissioners chosen at the congregational meeting of the First church will be present to present the call to Rev. John Montgomery.

A Sermon on Education.

Rev. Dr. J. C. Taggart at the First U. P. church, preached on education, it being the day of prayer for the schools. He held that the Bible should be more generally taught to inculcate morality. The state, in undertaking to educate the people of whom it is the creature, shows itself to be a divine institution, and as such might well encourage Bible study in order to help to improve the people spiritually as well as to equip them for the struggle for existence.

A HEARING HELD IN POTTERY CASE

A hearing was begun Saturday before Judge Robinson, of Ravenna, in the injunction proceedings instituted by E. J. Owent against the East Liverpool Potteries company. Mr. Owens seeks to restrain the company from disposing of a part of its property, namely, the East End plant of the company, in which Mr. Owens was interested at the time of the consolidation.

The hearing of the case was continued from Saturday until today. A long distance telephone message to the News Review this afternoon stated that no decision had been handed down by Judge Robinson and that several days would elapse before it would be made known.

Dragged Under a Car.

Salineville, September 14.—(Special.)—Walter Goddard, aged 24, at the New Shaft mine Friday night, was hauling slate with a mule and car, when he tripped and fell on the tracks, the car running on him, and dragging him under it. He was unable to stop the mules, but managed to get out without having any bones broken. His cries soon attracted his fellow workmen, who hastily removed him to the outside of the mine. His back was badly sprained and it will lay him off work for a couple of months.

Girl Broke Her Wrist.

Lisbon, September 14.—(Special.)—The Furnace Sunday school picnic, held in Willitt's grove north of Lisbon Saturday afternoon, was attended by about 100. One accident occurred. Annie Reese, aged 10, daughter of David Reese, of Logtown, while reading in a seat suspended from a wire, moved by a pulley, fell to the ground, 10 feet, breaking her left wrist.

Big Fair Expected.

Lisbon, September 14.—(Special)—The prospects are that the 54th annual fair of Columbiana county agricultural society which opens here tomorrow will be far above the average. All the speed classes are well filled with good horses and the indications are that the attendance will greatly exceed that of any recent years.

Impossible to foresee an accident. Not impossible to be prepared for it. Dr. Thomas Eclectric Oil. Monarch over pain.

more brutal. On July 15, last, he is said to have injured her arm so severely that the flesh was badly discolored and on August 10 is alleged to have struck her with his fists and otherwise treated her shamefully, injuring her mouth badly.

A second cause of action charges that by reason of drunkenness and dissipation, although fully able, he has failed properly to provide for his wife and child for several years and has grossly neglected them. The plaintiff says her husband owns a one-half interest in the business of Bagnall & Hilles, who are extensively engaged in electrical contracting with their principal office in Yokohoma, Japan, with branch offices in Singapore and New York. She further says he owns a lot in Salem, which is held in trust for him by Jacob D. Hilles; that he owns a one-half interest in lots 425 and 426 in Zadoc Street's fourth addition to Salem and that he owns lot 423 and part of lot 424 in the same addition. He is restrained from disposing of any of his property by a temporary injunction, pending a hearing of the case.

morrow, a game having been arranged for the occasion between the Rovers and the Brewery Athletic club. The members of both teams have been at practice for the past month, familiarizing themselves with the new plays and getting accustomed to the new rules. Several important changes have been made since last year, making the game cleaner, faster and less brutal.

It is the hope of the foot ball enthusiasts to interest those who like to witness athletic contests, as several teams will play here during the season. Thousands of people will witness the contest tomorrow and for this reason, if for no other, the players will put up the best article of sport possible. The result hoped for is that the spectators will patronize the games later in the season.

The Rovers and Brewery Athletic club are about evenly matched, so far as weight is concerned. The players of both elevens will average something near 140 pounds and the only advantage is in favor of the Rovers, they being for the most part older. Last year the Rovers had a very successful season, defeating some of the best teams in this section. The B. A. C. also won a number of games, defeating strong local clubs.

Manager Ashbaugh, of the Rovers, and Burgess, of the Brewery Athletic club, have agreed upon the officials for the game and well posted men have been selected. Alex Stevenson, who has been selected as assistant coach for the West Virginia university team, is to act as referee, and "Lefty" Baker, a well known local player, as umpire. One sub from each eleven will act as linesman and the same arrangement has been made for timekeepers. Owing to the extreme hot weather, the halves will be 15 minutes.

While the crowd will number into the thousands every effort will be made so that every spectator can have a full view of the field. The gridiron will be laid off east and west on the ball grounds, and those in the grand stand in the natural amphitheater can see every play.

To suit the crowds desiring to attend the Rock Springs theater tomorrow evening the display of fireworks to be put off at the park by the News Review, the performance will begin promptly at 8 o'clock. The pyrotechine display will be commenced at 9 o'clock and will be one of the main features of the big News Review picnic.

Hagee's Cordial of Cod Liver Oil is a thin, pleasant-tasting, pleasant-smelling fluid. It is not an emulson, and does not contain any grease or fishiness.

Hagee's Cordial is readily accepted by the most delicate stomach.

News Review's hobby tomorrow is their big picnic. With Joseph Bros. it's good clothes.

THERE WILL BE AMUSEMENT AND ENJOYMENT FOR OLD AND YOUNG AT ROCK SPRINGS PARK TOMORROW. THE NEWS REVIEW HAS MADE AMPLE PREPARATION FOR ENTERTAINING ALL ITS FRIENDS AND NEIGHBORS AND HOPES TO SEE THEM THERE BY THE THOUSAND.

Missionary Society Meeting.

It was announced last evening in the First Presbyterian church that the Woman's Missionary society would meet on Wednesday at 2:30 o'clock, after a vacation of 14 weeks. The session will open with a business meeting, followed by the making of plans for the work of the coming year. The meeting will be largely attended, as the society has a very good enrollment and is one of the strongest organizations of the church. Mrs. E. D. Moore will preside at the meeting. Miss Mazie Crawford, daughter of Mrs. Daniel Crawford, who has been doing wonderful work among the Indians of the far west, will be present and speak of this work. A social will conclude the meeting, and a general good time is anticipated. A number of the Presbyterian ladies will assist the president in the afternoon's entertainment.

Coming Wedding.

Rev. J. H. Norris, of Pittsblrg, has announced the coming marriage of his daughter, Miss Gertrude, to Mr. Harry Becis, of the same city. The event will be auspicious and interesting to the many friends of the contracting parties in Pittsburg. The ceremony will take place Wednesday next at Sebring. A large number of Pittsburg people will witness the marriage. The attendants will be the cousins of the bride, who are Messrs. Charles and Orville Sebring and Misses Helen, Elsie and Hazel Sebring.

Important Meeting.

A very important meeting of the ladies' auxiliary of the Y. M. C. A. will be held this evening at 7:30 o'clock in the Y. M. C. A. parlors. The business will be to arrange the cast for the "Breach of Promise Case," which is soon to be presented in this city. All those interested in the play, and those who wish to take part, are urged to be present.

Coming Wedding.

Lisbon, September 14.—(Special)—Announcement has just been made of the coming marriage of Edward Cassiday, of Pittsburg, and Miss Linnie Barlow, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Barlow, living a mile south of Lisbon. The marriage will take place next Thursday evening at the home of the bride's parents.

Married at Lisbon.

Lisbon, September 14.—(Special)—Thomas J. Caldwell and Miss Laura Ruhl, both of Church Hill, were married by Rev. J. P. Anderson at the Presbyterian parsonage Saturday afternoon.

Clunk-Morrison.

Lisbon, September 14.—(Special)—The marriage of Thomas Morrison and Miss Bessie Clunk, both of Lisbon, which took place in Wheeling last Monday, has just been announced.

Mr. News Review, at your big picnic, tell the people that good clothes can be seen in Joseph Bros.' show window.

MR. SHAWKE INDIGNANT

Hasty Action on the Part of an Official of the Union Is Charged.

J. R. Shawke, the well known horseshoer, is very indignant at the report that he has been conducting a non-union shop. He said this morning:

"The only notice I had that there was a man in my shop to which the union objected was when an officer of the union came in and accosted a man in my employ and asked him why he did not attend a Sunday meeting and pay $2.75 alleged to be due. The man replied that he did not attend to such business on Sunday. The walking delegate then seized the union card on the wall of my shop and tore it down, making threats of what he would do if I continued to employ such men.

"The only fair way would have been to make complaint to me. The man complained of was a union man and one of the charter members of the horseshoers' organization. I had no knowledge of him being in arrears in his dues, and I am sure he would have settled if given a chance.

"The statement that the teamsters endorsed the action of the horseshoers' official contains not a word of truth, as I have been assured by the chief officials of the teamsters."

To be in touch with the big picnic tomorrow, wear Clothcraft clothes, for your pocket book will be touched lightly by Joseph Bros.
